CHRISTOPHER MAYA

Without unique artistic objects, a modern home can be lacking in spirit and personality. Unfortunately, so few people budget for this part of the posjec Pecanosi "Ovelle" gold medallion, with its primitive wooden box and simple servew, would be a small yet powerful piece that adds character and interest to a space. The opened medallion would be fabulous encased in a glass box with a worn persimmon velvee base and then placed on a bronne coffee table with other objects. It's a piece that could create conversation among your gusters and possibly surprise some who never knew Pecano designed jewelty.

four Black Jacks and Bombards are so beautiful and sculptural. They remind us of an Alexandre Noll or Noguchi sculpture; it's as if they were carved or molded out of a single block of material. These vessels grouped together and filled with fresh flowers would add color, life, and a sculptural element
