YESTERDAY'S NEWS

Dangerous Disease Hits Kona

The parents of Kona are alarmed by a dangerous disease. The youngsters are beginning to show signs of "Hawaiian Disease" which occurs every coffee season. Another word for that disease is laziness. WEST HAWAII NEWS, Sept. 17, 1952

WILLIAM ELLIS IDENTIFIED

Two separate anonymous correspondences were wired to the editor of Coffee Times during the month of October relating to the persons of William Ellis. The anonymous parties claiming that William Ellis, the artist responsible for several early drawings relating to the subject of Hawaii, should be contributed to the Reverend William Ellis. Your summation is incorrect. The William Ellis who was responsible for these Hawaiian sketches, circa 1776 - 1781, are indeed the work of William Ellis, the carpenter who sailed with Captain Cook on his third Pacific voyage. The drawings were recreated by the Reverend Thomas Bankes in the Bankes Edition of Banke's Geography.

COFFEE PAY RATE CHANGE

Basic pay rate for coffee pickers will be $2.50 per bag for this season, it was decided by the Kona Coffee leaders at a meeting held by the association at the University of Hawaii extension office, Kainaliu, on September 2.

Although the pay rate has been set at $2.50 per bag, due to varied harvesting conditions, which exist on many coffee farms and at various elevations, the individual coffee growers are permitted to make their own wage adjustments to fit their own farms.

Russians Mount Guns Kamehameha Reacts

In 1809 the Russian governor of Alaska had an idea of forming a colony in the Hawaiian islands, and a Scotch captain, Archibald Campbell, visited them on his ship Neva. In 1815, the Myrtle, a Russian ship was sent from Alaska, and she anchored at Honolulu. The Russians landed, built a block-house, mounted a few guns, and hoisted their nation's flag. Kamehameha sent a large force of chiefs and warriors to watch the aggressors, and, if necessary, to resist with arms. But the night after they arrived in Honolulu the Myrtle and a Russian brig, which had put in for repairs, both sailed for the island of Kauai and they remained some time at Hanalei, threw up a breast-work, and mounted a few cannon there. A Dr. Scheffer had a year previously been sent to Kauai by M. Baranoff, the Governor of Alaska; and this man had persuaded the King of Kauai, who, though he had been subdued by the King of Hawaii still held his own islands in fief, to give him the beautiful and fertile valley of Hanalei. He had superintended the building of a fort for the ex-king. Over it the Russian colours now floated.

Kamehameha sent a messenger with orders to expel these Russians, and Dr. Scheffer at once betook himself, with his property, to Honolulu on the Russian brig. The ship Myrtle was also requested to leave, but she proved not seaworthy; she had to put back, and sank in the harbour. Soon after a Russian war sloop touched at the islands, and made inquiries. Captain Kotsubue called a year later, and at first caused great anxiety, until he assured the king that he did not come officially.

M. Choris, an artist who accompanied Kotzebue in his expedition - one of discovery - painted the only portrait there is of the great Kamehameha. It is on one of the early postage stamps, and will be familiar to all collectors. When the king understood Kotzebue's mission, he treated him most generously; his ship, the Rurick, was towed into harbour by eight double canoes, and every assistance was given to the expedition. On his part he gave two eight pounder mortars, with a supply of shells, powder, etc.

Friendly North Kohala

Biking Adventures, Art Galleries, Fine Dining, Cafes, Quaint Shops, and even a local Ice Cream Factory

Following highway 270 north visitors will encounter a landscape filled with historical landmarks that include the original statue of King Kamehameha, Kalahikiola Church, and Mo'okini Heiau which is regarded as the oldest pre-Western contact temple of worship. King Kamehameha was believed to be born at Mo'okini in 1758.

Also to be found are the remnants of a once thriving sugar plantation industry of the 1880's which is still visible in the many old storefronts of Hawi & Kapaau towns. These towns are now preserved by a new generation of Hawaii business which have their own distinct local offerings. In Hawi Town, a fun romantic & wild boutique called As Hawi Turns awaits those visitors seeking new clothing for the Hawaiian life-style and is not for the weak at the knees. The shop also carries handmade crafts by Big Island artists.

Next to As Hawi Turns is Kohala Pacific Realty, where visitors are welcome to stop in for free maps of the North Kohala region. On the other side of the street is the newly opened Bamboo Restaurant. Inside what was once the grand old Takata Store, built during the booming days of sugar cane, chef Michael Neff combines Pacific Rim dishes with flavors from as far off as Thailand to create his innovative style of cuisine. Farm fresh herbs and a next door bakery contributes a local flare to the food.

Just up the road a piece, smack dab in the middle of Kapaau Town is Hawaii's own local ice cream factory, Tropical Dreams. The owners, Lou and Deby Bleier, feature their fresh fruit sorbets and homemade ice creams and their original macadamia nut and honey butters in a parlor that fills one storefront in old Kapaau town. FREE TASTES!!! Across the street from the ice cream factory and also across from the King Kamehameha statue artist

Gary Ackerman reflects on the landscape around him through his impressionistic style of painted art on display in Ackerman Galleries. Gary's combination of a free liquid style on canvas and varied techniques of painting allows him to successfully blend the colors of the natural environment. Both galleries also feature the works of other local artists.

If the drive up the Kohala coast and gallery hopping has got your appetite going at this point maybe its time to visit Don's Deli across from the King Kamehameha statue. Let Don prepare you a sandwich from his large selection of cold cuts and cheeses or try one of his homemade

The gallery hosts the works of only North Kohala artists, its youngest contributor being only 6 years old. Wearable art, sculptures, pottery, woodwork and watercolor paintings by Patrick Rankin can all be found at this local gallery.

If your interests lie in seeing all their is in this region Chris' Bike Adventures provides a "bike at your own pace" tour of the Kohala Mountains and its towns. The bike adventure is suited for all levels of riders and is complemented with a breakfast and lunch and even a free t-shirt if you book directly from Coffee Times and use the coupon on the front page.

While driving along the coastline of North Kohala remember that if the skies are clear, you may be able to catch a view of the island of Maui looming from the other side of the Alenuihaha channel which separates Maui from the Big Island. Between the months of December and April visitors are almost guaranteed a humpback whale sighting off the coast of North Kohala. This region of the Big Island is a particularly favorite spot for our migrating friends from the north.

Come and enjoy this peaceful region of Hawaii. You will see and taste the wonders it has in store for you.

Waimea Country

In The Heart of The Big Island

Between snow capped Mauna Kea and the Kohala mountains the green hillsides of North Kohala roll along under wispy white clouds and afternoon rainbows that frequently stream their way from the skies above Kamuela, Waimea. Inside this landscape herds of grazing cattle can be seen migrating their way through sloping pastures filled with cactus and dry underbrush as Hawaiian cowboys called paniolos still ride horseback working the ranges.

Ranching began in this region of the Big Island after King Kamehameha appointed, in 1815, a young seaman named John Parker to hunt and shoot the herds of wild cattle whose population had grown uncontrollably since their introduction to Hawaii in 1793. Parker, who accomplished his mission, managed to domesticate a herd of his own before marrying a Hawaiian chiefess. The marriage helped Parker to acquire the land that would later be used to found his 250,000 acre ranch in 1847. Today's existence of Parker ranch as one of the largest ranches in the United States gives the outsider an idea of the magnitude of its size.

Today, the town of Kamuela, more often referred to after its district name Waimea, is a town that still surrounds itself with a ranching lifestyle. The brightly colored Victorian houses and

HERB KANE

IN UPCOUNTRY SHOWING

For the entire month of December Hawaii's most treasured artist, Herb Kawainui Kane, will feature several exclusive paintings at Waimea's Upcountry Connection. Kane's powerful works of art depict ancient Hawaii's people and their Pacific Island culture.

In a deep and rich display of realism and color, scenes of early turbulent journeys across the sea in open canoes, quiet villages, Hawaii's Kings and Queens, ancient battle scenes and the arrival of the missionaries are all magically brought to life on canvas by the artist.

Headlining the showing will be Herb Kane's limited edition prints of NAVIGATOR II as well as the original painting of NAVIGATOR I.

These limited edition prints as well as the NAVIGATOR I original will be available for purchase by the public.

ON THE VERANDA, will be among the works featured at the December showing of Herb Kane at Upcountry Connection.

Upcountry Connection is located in Waimea Center and is open daily. Call 885-0623 for info.

100% PURE KONA<sup>TM</sup> COFFEE

For Sale

Did you know that out of the 20 million pounds of Kona Coffee bought and consumed every year under the name Kona only 2 million pounds of that coffee is actually grown here in Kona! And the frightening fact of the matter is...that most Kona coffee drinkers around the world have no idea that what they're drinking is a coffee containing 90% of something other than Kona coffee. It's time for this deceptive labeling and misuse of the Kona name to end. In an attempt to preserve the coffee growing heritage here in Kona and the gourmet reputation of our local coffee and to combat this widespread misrepresentation of the Kona name to sell counterfeit coffee we here at Coffee Times magazine unconditionally guarantee that the coffee you receive from us is farmer direct, contains only 100% Kona coffee and meets the State of Hawaii's highest grading standards. Enjoy the pure taste of Kona and support our farmers and our coffee growing lands here in Kona by buying only...

SEVENTH ANNUAL KONA COFFEE CUPPING COMPETITION

With Jon Kunitake in the saddle, his farmers reach the Winner's Circle

Although you won't see his name anywhere in the list of winning farms in the 1993 Kona Coffee cupping Competition, the coffee processing expertise of Jon Kunitake, Holualoa coffee mill owner, was a driving force behind the success of five of the farms that supply his mill. The Competition, which showcases the highest quality coffees Kona has to offer, was held this year on November 10th and 11th at the Ritz Carlton Mauna Lani Hotel on the Kona-Kohala coast, and featured thirty-nine entries.

At the end of the first day of the Competition, the judges, Martin Elkin of Specialty Coffee Holding Company in New Hampshire, Hitoshi Iwata of UCC Coffee in Kobe, Japan, and Jean Hull of the University of Hawaii, had narrowed the field to twelve finalists. Five of these twelve came from one small mill in Holualoa in North Kona, the Kunitake mill. All five were chosen by Jon Kunitake as good representatives of the efforts of the farmers that bring their coffee cherry to his mill. The dozens of other entries in the Competition were made by individuals promoting their single estate farms, but the Kunitake group of entries were unique in that these farms supply their cherry to the Kunitake mill where it is processed daily together with many other top quality farms, to be sold worldwide as green coffee under the name Kona Kava Coffee.

For the competition, a few bags of coffee cherry from each of the five farms from a single day's picking were kept separate and processed individually. The cherry was pulped exactly as it was brought in by the pickers without any special selection for the event. Pulped through the mill's old pulper rather than the new machine which removes green and overripe fruit, the samples submitted to the Competition were thus exactly representative of the production of each farm.

The day of the Competition finals, the judges carefully cupped the twelve finalists and then recupped the top three. When making the presentations, Marty Elkins, the head judge, spoke glowingly of the quality of the crop, offering the opinion that it was the finest in many years. Ribbons and trophies (Koa woodwork) were awarded to the First, Second, and Third place farms, and Honorable Mentions to the next four finalists. Of these seven, three were from Jon Kunitake's mill: one Honorable Mention, Third place, and First place as the Best Kona Coffee of the year.

Jon Kunitake, a third generation Kona coffee farmer, is a marathon runner and Aloha Games gold medalist, and is also well known throughout Kona for his exploits as a successful mainland thoroughbred racing jockey. He says, "Every one of our farmers is a winner. They know that those friends, relatives, and neighbors whose farms won these awards are also part of Kona Kava Coffee. Together we produce a special Kona coffee that carries our Aloha."

Volcano Region & National Park Information

Volcanoes National Park has one entrance, off Route 11, 30 miles south from Hilo or 95 miles east from Kona. The park is open 24 hours a day all year round and requires a $5.00 entrance fee per vehicle which is valid for 7 consecutive days. The hiker/bicyclist/bus passenger fee for people over 16 and under 62 is $3.00.

When you enter the park during daytime hours you will receive a park brochure at the entrance station. If you enter the park after hours you may pick up the brochure at the Kilauea Visitor Center which is located a quarter mile from the entrance on Crater Rim Drive. The visitor center is open from 7:45 am to 5:00 pm daily.

Visitors are encouraged to take the time to carefully read the park regulations and guidelines. The volcano fumes that exist in the park may create a health hazard for pregnant women, infants and people with heart or respiratory problems. People at risk should avoid stopping at the

The Original Volcano House,

Now the Volcano Art Center at Volcanoes National Park.

Sulphur Banks, Halema'uma'u Crater and other areas where volcanic fumes are present.

Overnight trips in the park require a backcountry permit that can be obtained at no charge at the Kilauea Visitor Center.

Once inside the park enjoy the 10-minute movie on eruptions shown hourly at the visitor's center. Other attractions are The Thomas A. Jaggar Museum three miles inside the park along Crater Rim Drive, The Volcano House, Thurston Lava Tube and scenic vistas. Depending on the timing of your visit you might have a chance to see the volcano erupting. A 20 minute drive to the end of Chain of Craters Road and a short hike will get you to the eruption site. The park also offers many other hiking opportunities which are mapped out in the park brochure.

Before leaving you won't want to miss The Volcano Art Center, adjacent to the visitor center. The Art Center hosts the works of some of Hawaii's finest artists. The Center is also responsible for many of the art, cultural, environmental, and community activities happening in the park. The dates and times of these activities are listed in the Coffee Times calendar on page 26.

A reminder to drive slowly and carefully while touring the park as it will help to protect Hawaii's endangered state bird, the nene.

If you are looking for lodging, gas, camping supplies and dining all can be found in Volcano Village just a short drive from the park. The Bed & Breakfasts existing in the region are the favorite choice among visitors staying in Volcano. A complete listing of Volcano B & B's can be seen on page 25 of Coffee Times. If you are looking for seclusion Carson's Volcano Cottages is tucked away in the region's rainforest offers guests the most in privacy, a hot tub and even a wood burning stove. Their ad is on page 11.

One of the most unique lodging opportunities found in the Volcano region is at Chalet Kilauea, The Inn at Volcano, which features rooms decorated with art from around the world and even a treehouse suite. See their ad on page 11. Most everything else you need in the way of gas, food and other supplies can be found at Volcano village's main hub of activity, The Volcano Store. One spectacular stop you do not want to miss when you are in the volcano region is Akatsuka Orchid Garden. Seeing is believing when you arrive at this exotic stop. Enjoy the trip to Volcanoes, it's a one of a kind.

IN SEARCH OF THE REAL HAWAII

For visitors who want to experience the true feeling of old Hawaii, Pahoa village holds the key to this untouched past. First a rugged sawmill town then a sugar town and later a crossroad on the old railroad, Main Street Pahoa has maintained its western style storefronts and wood boardwalks in a charming turn of the century Victorian style. Quaint shops from surf, to curio and restaurants that span the flavors of the globe from Thailand, to Mexico and Italy make Pahoa Village one of the most pleasurable and tasteful stops on the Big Island. Call ahead to any of the friendly shops to see if there are any special events scheduled during your visit. Pahoa has the reputation of holding some lively and entertaining performances both on its Main Street and at the Akebono Theater, Hawaii's oldest theater.

The Hawaiian Hemp Company, also located in downtown Pahoa, always seems to amaze visitors with its wealth of alternative literature, hemp clothing, food and art. Amaze yourself and drop in!

The countryside surrounding Pahoa is filled with natural wonders like the Lava Tree State Park, steam vents, groves of papaya trees and black sand beaches along the rugged Puna coast. Visitors are warned however that a prolonged stay in this Aloha time capsule may make leaving a very difficult task.

What to see:

HISTORIC HILO

Early 20th century Hawaii happily lives on in the storefronts and buildings of this yesterday town. Outside the town are magnificent Akaka Falls and Hawaii Tropical Botanical Garden to the north.

VOLCANOES NATIONAL PARK

Home of Pele, the Hawaiian goddess of fire. A region of unique features, volcanoes and a diverse biosphere. See page 6 of Coffee Times for volcano information.

CAPTAIN COOK MONUMENT

The spot in Kealahou Bay where English navigator, Captain James Cook was killed in 1779.

PU'UHONUA HONAUNAU

An ancient Hawaiian village that is now a national park. Located in south Kona. Stop and see the Painted Church along the way on Hwy 160.

WAIPIO VALLEY LOOKOUT

Spectacular views into a lush valley of waterfalls, rivers and cascading cliffs. (4WD, horse, or a hike are necessary for access into the valley)

WAIMEA COUNTRY

In the heart of Big Island ranch country this western style town sits at the base of Mauna Kea.

AKAKA & RAINBOW FALLS

Two separate waterfalls northwest of Hilo. Easily accessed by car and short enjoyable paved hikes.

HEIAUS & PETROGLYPHS

Both can be found on the Kohala coast. The petroglyphs can be seen by following a path on top of the lava rocks at the Royal Waikoloan Resort.

POLOLU VALLEY LOOKOUT

A northern valley lookout. The road there will take you through friendly N. Kohala towns and perhaps a view of Hawaii's neighboring islands.

PUNA DISTRICT

Hosts the rustic western style town of Pahoa in addition to wild roadside orchids, steam vents, Lava Trees State Park and black sand beaches.

SOUTH POINT U.S.A.

The southern most point in the U.S. It boasts a magnificent ocean side drive through rolling green hillsides filled with Holstein cows grazing above a coast line of rugged cliffs and crashing waves.

ALOHA THEATER COMPLEX IN KAINALIU

Located just a short drive south on highway 11 from Kailua-Town, central to Kona's coffee country, is the historic Aloha Theater Complex built in 1932. Local theater performances produced by the Aloha Performing Arts Center and various other local community groups are on stage every month at the complex that also hosts a Cafe, Village Store and Dance Academy. At the cafe visitors can enjoy breakfast, lunch and dinner which includes many vegetarian specialties. A second floor bake shop turns out breads, cakes and cookies that fill the glass case just inside the front door to the theater.

Relax on the outside lanai while you sip a cup of pure Kona coffee, something very few restaurants on the Big Island actually serve. Wander next door to the Village Store and find Hawaiian gifts, fresh fruits and always a local tune playing through the speakers. To round off this Aloha experience the local Academy of Dance run by Reni Damron is always alive with people of all ages practicing tap, ballet or jazz in the hall that is located at the north end of the complex.

Aloha Children's Theatre announce the cast of The Hobbit, their final offering of the 1993 season. Joe Savarese makes his directorial debut in this J.R.R. Tolkien fantasy classic, which traces the adventures of Bilbo Baggins and his Dwarf companions as they make their way to the misty mountain to reclaim the treasure that is hidden there. Bilbo, guided by the wisdom of Gandalf, a Great Wizard, encounters trolls, wood elves and battles goblins leading up to the final confrontation with a Dragon named Smaug. A story filled with marvels and strange terrors.

Bob Haber portrays the lead role of Bilbo Baggins, while Ron Cook makes his Aloha Theatre debut as the mystical wizard, Gandalf. The role of the slimy cave creature, Gollum is claimed by Victor Pisauo and Ben Dyer also makes his Aloha theatre debut as Thorin, Leader of the Dwarves. Anna Spencer, Dwight Ballard, Maile Cannon, Melissa Kilkuskie, Jamie Titus, Brook Yancy, Nicholas Davis, Sasha Benkofsky, Crystal Weaver, Max Marquardt and William Peebles make up the rest of the Dwarves. ## The Gentle GIANTS of Hawaiian Waters

What are "humpback whales"? The humpback whale is a very large species of baleen whale. They can reach a length of 50 feet and weigh as much as 40 tons. Humpbacks, like other baleen species, are migratory travelling between feeding grounds and mating/calving areas. Humpback whales feed in the Alaskan and North Pacific waters during the summer and then travel to warmer tropical waters to mate and calve in the winter. Lucky for us, one of their prime "wintering" areas is Hawaii, and it is during these five months that we'll see our humpback friends in our coastal waters. Kona is one of the humpbacks' favorite areas in Hawaii along with the coastal waters off all the major Hawaiian Islands.

Humpbacks are easily recognizable because of their size, their long white flippers, knobby head and their proximity to land. The tail of each humpback also has markings unique to that whale, and this is one way by which we have been counting the humpback population in the Eastern North Pacific over the past decade. Humpback whales are also well-known for their aquatic acrobatics such as leaping almost all the way out of the water and then falling back with a tremendous splash. (This is called breaching.) They will also often slap their tail or flippers on the water's surface. This behavior, as well as the

Holualoa, Aloha & Art

Days pass slowly in the artist's retreat town of Holualoa, almost like the gentle mountain breezes which weave their way through the groves of coffee trees that line the slopes of Mt. Hualalai. Steeped in natural beauty and tradition this little mountainside coffee town blends a touch of today's art with a passion for the simpler life of the past. Private galleries which line the streets showcase the works of many local artists in a wide array of mediums.

When you are done visiting the galleries the friendly local espresso bar, Holuakoa Cafe, will undoubtedly snatch an hour or two from your day and maybe more if you decide to indulge in the homemade cake and pastry selection. Every Thursday night the sound of acoustic guitars may be heard in the night air strumming over a chorus of 'gone happy' coffee drinkers that pack the cafe for Holualoa's only night time entertainment. (Give cafe owner, Meggi Worbach, a call at 322-CAFE for an up to date scoop on her local entertainment schedule).

If you are looking for a place to spend the night Hale' Maluhia (House of Peace) Bed and Breakfast is located below the village on Hualalai road. This rambling home offers guests a sense of seclusion and a touch of paradise and is outfitted with several lanais, an outdoor spa, kitchen and even office facilities.

Here are some easy ones...

Answer these questions correctly AND HAVE A CHANCE AT WINNING 5 POUNDS OF PURE PEABERRY KONA COFFEE

- Who brought the first coffee plants to Hawaii? What island did he plant them on? And in what year did this all happen? Clue: Although it's widely accepted as fact, it wasn't Governor Boki and John Wilkinson on Oahu in 1825.
- What is a Kona Blend?

Send your answers to Coffee Times, P.O. Box 1092, Captain Cook, HI 96704. We will draw one winner from those of you who can answer the questions correctly and announce that winner in the February 1994 issue. Good Luck!

eerie and unusual "song" that they sing, are not well understood as to their exact function. Both myself and other researchers believe that these behaviors may be related to dominance or mating - since only the male humpback whales "sing".

When you are out enjoying these magnificent creatures on-the-water remember that finding and really watching whales takes time and patience. You tend to witness more exciting whale behaviors and playful/curious moments the longer you are out with the whales. And, this is the essence of experiencing these creatures in their natural environment.

Magnificent But Endangered

At one time, the humpbacks were one of the most abundant of the great whales world-wide. But, then they were hunted - by man! - extensively well into this century so that as recently as 25 years ago they had been reduced to a population of perhaps as few as 1000 in the Eastern North Pacific. But, since 1966 they have been protected as an endangered species, and researchers now estimate that there are about 2,000 to 4,000 in the Eastern North Pacific. Other researchers estimate a slightly higher number in the North Atlantic. With this protection from hunting, we hope that they will replenish themselves to the point where they are no longer considered "endangered".

A Whale of a Thought

Although we can study the humpbacks right in our backyard, so to speak, we still have no real clear idea of why they may prefer to frequent certain areas of the Hawaiian Islands or what the effect of man's interaction with them is in those areas. The past two years, I counted hundreds of humpbacks in our Kona waters, but whether we can expect that many this season, I can't say. Some think that man's activities in the Lahaina area is causing them to move to Kona waters. If this is really happening it could just as easily be related to water temperature, clarity, or a host of other environmental, oceanographic, or natural whale distribution patterns. The interaction of all these factors is very complex, and so it's difficult to generalize. In all, enjoy the humpbacks, but give them space - 100 yards minimum - since they are very special visitors.

If you are interested in seeing these amazing creatures of the sea join Captain Dan McSweeney on one of his whale watching adventures. For information / reservations call 322-0028. See you out there!

EAST HAWAII

When you talk about the old Hawaii, at least the one that hasn't been touched as much today by the long arms of commercialization and development, you can not help but to mention the East Coast on the Big Island. At the center of all this is Old town Hilo which is seeing a revitalization of spirit thanks to the effort of the Downtown Hilo Organization which is busy restoring and preserving the storefronts of this yesterday town. Aiding this effort are the wealth of new businesses occupying Hilo's old buildings. One of the brightest spots has been the renovation and remodeling of the S. Hata Building by Cafe Pesto. This new restaurant has maintained the building's Renaissance Revival style of architecture and filled the air with smells of wood oven baked pizza and Pacific Rim Italian cuisine.

To add to this old Hawaii feeling are the daily Suisan Fish Market Auction and the Hilo Farmer's Market which is held every Wednesday and Saturday in Downtown Hilo. Outside the town to the north are the Hawaii Tropical Botanical Garden, located along a 4 mile coastal scenic route, and Akaka Falls with its self guided pathways that takes visitors over ravines and past several other waterfalls before ending up at the grand daddy of them all, Akaka.

When you are done sight seeing lodging in Hilo is a snap and can accommodate every type of visitor. The magnificent and luxurious Hale Kai Bed and Breakfast on the bluff above the ocean overlooks Hilo's premier surf spot, Honolii. Expect nothing less than gourmet breakfasts and plenty of privacy. If you are looking to stay within walking distance to downtown Hilo stop in at the affordable Wild Ginger Inn which features a jungle garden and stream setting overlooking Hilo Bay. If a stay in the Hawaiian countryside is what you are looking for head seven miles north out of town to Papaikou and check in at Hale Lamalani vacation rentals. Situated at 1,000 feet above sea level this country retreat offers plantation style lodging with all the serenity one could ever desire.

After leaving Hilo you don't want to miss the drive north to Waipio Valley which takes you over scenic gorges that were once crossed by cane hauling trains in the hey day of sugar cane production. The plummeting waterfalls and river mouths under the extensive bridge systems leading north up the Hilo Coast are definitely an awesome sight. Akaka Falls State Park and the village of Honamu can be reached by taking Hwy. 220 off of the main route, Hwy. 19 north. See the map. Once you reach the Park a short paved hike will take you through a network of smaller waterfalls, lush and colorful tropical foliage to plummeting Akaka at the end of the trail. Its accessibility and grand size make Akaka Falls a popular stop along this eastern coast.

"The Happy Sounds of Jazz" ALIVE AGAIN IN HILO

From 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. every Sunday afternoon the hands of father time seem to slow a bit as four veterans of the Big Band Era known as the SKYLINERS break out their instruments and take to the stage at D'Angoras in the Hilo Lagoon. With Suds Suderman on cornet, Don Kaye on guitar and banjo, John Hursey on drums and Bobby Madrona on bass, these musicians strike up tunes from the Big Band, New Orleans Jazz and Dixieland eras for visitors and locals alike. Playing the memory songs of the 30's, 40's and 50's folks of all ages find there way to D'Angoras to dance or to just simply relax and soak up the rhythms of these yesteryear sounds.

This self-guided walking tour of historic Downtown Hilo will take about one hour if walked continuously. However, you are encouraged to go at your own pace and spend additional time discovering and exploring that which interests you.

The seventeen stops along the way will provide you with information about the town from 1870 to the present. The history of Hilo begins much earlier, however, with the arrival of the Polynesians in 1100 A.D. They eventually inhabited the shores of Hilo Bay, farmed their crops, fished and traded their goods with each other along the Wailuku River. Changes came to this life-style upon the arrival of missionaries who brought with them new ideas, education and Christianity.

Hilo became a stopping place for explorers curious about the active volcanoes, whaling ships and traders. By the 1900's a number of wharves had been constructed, the breakwater was begun and the railroad connected Hilo with other parts of the island. Hilo became the center of commerce. Two destructive tsunamis, in 1946 and 1960, caused a shift in the location of Hilo's government and commercial life.

Today, historic Downtown Hilo is alive and bustling with renewed energy. New and old businesses alike are meeting the challenge of revitalizing our city center while preserving the historic character which remains very special.

BOTELHO'S GARAGE

1927 drawing of Botelho's Garage - erected as Honokaa's first auto center it also boasted the town's first electric sign as well as a dance hall on the second floor of the building.

For years the town of Honokaa sat idle, its home town theater empty, local storefronts ghostly quiet, and streets void of the bustle that once rumbled down Mamane Street during the boom days of the Hamakua Sugar Company, an industry that for the last century has been the life blood of the people in this region. Since the decreasing activity of sugar production over the years and the recent decision this year to halt sugar production all together, the local citizens of Honokaa have redirected their energy and begun one of Hawaii's most spirited movements of rejuvenation. Local merchants have taken the initiative to reopen some of the closed doors in this picturesque town, including the local ice cream parlor, now called Simply Natural, outfitted with an old fashion soda fountain and spinning stools. Other shops such as Hale O'Kauwehi, Rainbow Nation and the Honokaa Trading Company as well as many curio shops overflow with Hawaiian memorabilia, local crafts, and wearable arts. Home town cooking flows out of Mateo's Pizza, Jolene's Kau Kau Korner, and Mamane Street Bakery to add to the distinctly local flavor of what pizza parlor owner, Alex Mateo proudly calls, "The New Honokaa".

The first annual Taro festival, organized by local townspeople, successfully took place this past November and beginning Saturday, December 4th the grand opening of the Honokaa Farmers / Crafts Market is set to take place. This Saturday afternoon market will be a weekly occurrence in Honokaa in front of the old Botelho Garage.

SUGAR NUTS WATERFALLS TRANQUILITY

As Hawaii's old theaters are becoming more and more popular these days, the citizens of Honokaa celebrated the reopening of their own People's theater. The doors have officially been opened and evening feature films can be caught every Friday and Saturday evening at Honokaa's historic theater.

Also located in Honokaa is the Hawaiian Macadamia Nut Plantation which is located down the hill from Kau Kau Korner. The plantation allows visitors the opportunity to view the inner workings of a macadamia nut factory. Factory creations fill the store shelves and will undoubtedly make your taste buds dance when you try them. Also featured is the plantation's own bake shop.

Departing every morning from the Hawaiian Macadamia Nut Plantation is the local tour group, Hawaii Resort Transportation Company that takes visitors into Waipio Valley for either horseback riding or a van tour of Hawaii's most dramatic sight.

Legend has it that it was in Waipio Valley, "the land of the falling water", the great King Kamehameha, as a young boy, received his leadership training and first learned to surf. Today, family ohanas, "houses", still dot the landscape which is separated by a river that leads into the open sea. Local farmers and their families continue to make their way of life from farming taro and fishing off the sandy shores of this peaceful and remote valley floor. The only way down into the valley is by four wheel drive or by walking the literally breathtaking road down and up. An experienced and knowledgeable guide from Hawaii Resort

Transportation Co. can make your trip an interesting as well as easy one.

Outside of Waipio Valley and Honokaa town are other early and small settlements of the Hamakua region such as Paauiilo, Kukuihaele and Laupahoehoe all filled with a rich and local culture that happily survives in this region of the Big Island.

New doors will continue to open for all of Hamakua as a period of change sweeps through the land with the fall of the sugar empire and the rise of small businesses in Honokaa.

Near the southernmost tip of the Big Island is Wood Valley, a place where towering eucalyptus and lush profusion of fragrant ginger line the shady byways. Wood Valley B&B is a cozy plantation home on 12 acres of pasture and gardens where one can see the ocean, watch the weather change and experience the serene seclusion of one of the Island's more mystical and enchanted places. Visitors may want to explore the valley, visit Wood Valley Temple, a Tibetan Buddhist retreat, swim with the turtles at Punalu'u Black Sand Beach, play 18 holes at Sea Mountain golf Course, hike to Mahana Bay, the green sand beach at KaLa'e, South Point, or you may just want to enjoy the peaceful days and dark starry nights, read from the extensive library, watch videos or Satellite TV, lounge in the outdoor tub, take a steam-bath and have a massage from your host, who is a licensed practitioner of LomiLomi, an ancient form of Hawaiian healing. A half hours drive takes you to Volcano National Park with over 150 miles of hiking trails and Halemaumau Cauldera, home of the fire Goddess Pele. Breakfast includes locally grown fruit, homemade baked items, eggs from the coop and 100% Kona Coffee. Jessie encourages the spirited visitor to encounter people and places that others would seldom discover.
