

Terms & Conditions

By buying this course you agree to these Terms & Conditions.

1. The creator

Jallabina AB is a company based in Stockholm, Sweden and is organized under the laws of Sweden. We have developed a revolutionary dance fitness workout that fuses all kinds of Middle Eastern music and dance styles with fitness. Jallabina AB owns the Jallabina IP and uses the Jallabina IP in relation to educational services in the field of dance fitness, functional fitness, Middle Eastern dance and other fitness-related services. By buying this course, you will take part in the Jallabina Instructor Training and desire to become an authorized Jallabina Instructor and use the Jallabina IP. On the terms and conditions of this Agreement, we have agreed to have you take part in the training.

2. The service

The course or the guide is developed with the help of Coursio's service. Coursio is a service for the creation of web-based courses and guides that are distributed electronically. The service allows businesses to create online courses consisting of video, text, images, audio, and interactive features. The service includes hosting and operating the spirit of the platform, support and in some cases even a shop for the sale and presentation of the courses.

After having completed the purchase of a guide or course produced by Coursio's service, you will be given access to the material. As a part of the purchase process, we will register an account for you to study the material through Coursio's service. When the purchase is processed and you have been invited to Coursio, you access the material through the site <https://app.coursio.com>.

Creation of a customer account is permitted only with a valid email address. You are responsible for the email address stated is correct and active. You can change the email address stated under "Settings".

To buy this course and register in Coursio you must be over 18 years.

You can read more about how Coursio manages your personal data in our Privacy Policy: <https://coursio.com/gdpr/>

3. Grant of Rights

Taking this course is an introduction to becoming a licensed Jallabina instructor and does not give you the status of such. You need to finalize this training, get approved and pay the license fee in order to teach classes and receive extended rights to the Jallabina IP.

The buyer may never use the Marks or confusingly similar designations as names of software, applications for mobile devices, publications, magazines, printed matter, newsletters or similar.

The buyer hereby undertakes not to promote or provide the material and information given in this course under any other name and to never modify or alter the Marks or the Jallabina IP.

The buyer may not duplicate, publicly display, copy, sell, distribute, upload, stream or otherwise disseminate any training materials, videos, music, instructions or any other material obtained from this course.

The buyer may not film, record, stream live video, create DVDs, publicly display or otherwise reproduce or otherwise imitate Jallabina choreography or music.

The limitations in this paragraph shall survive the expiration of this course.

4. Payment

To purchase the course, you will be asked to choose a use a third-party payment option for card payments. All sensitive information, such as credit card information is handled by the party in question, using a secure payment and SSL server. We don't store any card information. We accept Visa, MasterCard and AMEX.

5. Returns

When you buy a course or a guide, the purchase does not apply to e-commerce law. When the payment has been processed and you get access to material, your right to withdrawal is exhausted. Is the product defective or incorrect, you are welcome to contact our customer service department at info@jallabina.com.

6. Technical conditions

The service requires access to the Internet. You are responsible for the costs incurred in the use of internet.

7. Responsibility

When buying a course or a guide access is only granted to the person who bought it. You may not in any way spread further content to others or share the password to your account. The Instructor may not duplicate, publicly display, copy, sell, distribute, upload, stream or otherwise disseminate any training materials, videos, music, instructions, brand guidelines or any other material obtained from Jallabina AB.

8. Coursio

Your material through Coursio is available around the clock, seven days a week. Coursio, however, does not guarantee that the service is always free of errors or interruptions. If the deficiencies or interruption in service occurs, Coursio reserves the right to correct them without breach of contract. Coursio also reserves the right, with reason, to close the service for upgrades and maintenance.

9. Freedom of choice

Any dispute under these terms shall be governed by Swedish law in the Stockholm District Court.

Questions regarding this statement, addressed to Coursio AB, Tegnérsgatan 1, 111 40 Stockholm, or info@coursio.se.

10. Personal data

To register in Coursio's service requires only an e-mail address and first and last name. When you provide your personal details, you agree that Coursio and Jallabina AB store and use your information in our business to fulfill the contract against you. In this part we will inform you of updates that occur in the material you have access to and for general updates to the service. You have the right to request a deregistration, correction of potentially wrong data in regards to you. This has to be done in via email to support@coursio.com and info@jallabina.com.