

Climbing Performance & Nutrition with Jonathan Siegrist & Shaina Savoy

ShayrdAir

Overview

A three-month online and in-person mentor program limited to 30 climbers with 5.15 pro climber Jonathan Siegrist and 5.13+ climbing nutritionist Shaina Savoy.

Develop tools, strategies, and improved fueling habits that accelerate your climbing performance. Receive elite mentorship that helps you achieve your goals, and expand your climbing network with a psyched, close-knit community of 30 climbers that is equal parts social, educational, and supportive.

By the end of this course, you will be able to:

- Set goals to catalyze real growth in your climbing.
- Dial your nutrition to maximize performance throughout your climbing season and beyond.
- Apply tactics and techniques to improve your redpointing ability.
- Understand the basics of performance training and structuring your own climbing and training protocols.
- Learn drills and exercises to improve your climbing technique and movement efficiency.
- Tap into a network of 30 peers who will become lifelong climbing partners and friends.

What You Get

Master Class on Projecting

A 45-minute master class, walking you through a day in the life of Jonathan and Shaina projecting, from preparing food for the crag to visualization, redpointing tactics, and more. (Curriculum, Page 6)

Zoom Course Jonathan Siegrist

A 6-hour Zoom course taught by Jonathan over three sessions. Expect an in-depth learning experience discussing goal setting, strategies for projecting, training, and mental game. (Curriculum, Page 7)

Zoom Course Shaina Savoy

A 6-hour Zoom course taught by Shaina over three sessions. Expect to learn about topics like foundational nutrition for climbers, protein and carbohydrate best practices, and fueling for success at the crag. (Curriculum, Page 8-9)

Outdoor Clinics

Put all you learn from Jonathan and Shaina into practice during two outdoor clinics with them and your classmates at a crag outside Boulder, CO. (Curriculum, Page 10)

Climbing Trip

To celebrate the end of the program, ShayrdAir organizes a climbing trip in Ten Sleep, Wyoming with Jonathan, Shaina, and your classmates so you can push yourselves, cover final questions, and most importantly, have fun!

Slack Channel

Our course Slack channel connects you directly with Jonathan and Shaina so they're in your pocket 24/7, and with your classmates, so you can crowdsource questions and coordinate meetups with your peers.

Learning Teams

Within the class of 30, ShayrdAir assigns you to a five-person learning team. Carefully selected based on a skill survey taken at the beginning of the program, your team will consist of peers with similar goals and skill levels to your own.

Course Timeline

*All Zoom Sessions take place on Tuesday nights from 6:30-8:30 pm MT.

Jonathan and Shaina's outdoor clinic weekend will occur on Saturday, July 20 and Sunday, July 21. Each clinic will consist of 15 students, and over the weekend, each student will receive one full-day clinic with Jonathan and one with Shaina.

ShayrdAir organizes a community climbing trip to Ten Sleep, WY to celebrate the end of the program. This year's trip takes place from August 9-11. Jonathan and Shaina will be onsite on August 10 to celebrate and climb with you. Your campsite reservation for the weekend will cost $20.

Letter From Jonathan & Shaina

“Hello all!

My name is Jonathan Siegrist and I’m a professional rock climber now living in Las Vegas, Nevada. I’ve spent the last 16 years traveling tirelessly around the United States and the world, searching for my next project and trying my best to collect as many redpoints as I can!

My name is Shaina Savoy and I am a Nutrition Therapist Master and passionate rock climber. For years I have developed my understanding of food as fuel for athletes and the importance of nutrition for both our health and performance - while also pursuing climbing at a high level!

Our aim with this three-month immersive course is to have the time and structure to teach what we feel are the key aspects of climbing performance. This includes the physical, mental, nutritional, and even emotional pieces that we have found to be the most critical to doing our best on rock.

Over these many years, climbing has given us not only a strong sense of identity but also a life-changing athletic passion, a vehicle for amazing travel, and most importantly - a community.

We hope that in these months we can all truly grow together as ‘students of the game’ and share our experiences as we do.

Hope to see you in class!

Outdoor Clinic Curriculum

These clinics will take place on the Colorado Front Range outside Boulder. They will be an awesome opportunity to meet one another and put the learnings from the Zoom Course into action!

The aim of these clinics is first and foremost to have a great climbing day together in a beautiful setting and for participants to push harder with Jonathan and Shaina onsite, providing you with guidance and feedback in real time.

All program participants will have the opportunity to ask questions, covering topics like projecting tactics, trying hard, and climbing movement, which will then be addressed during our time together.
