

Pigmented Quartz is produced in-house using a high quality resin coating system incorporating pigments picked specifically for their inherently stable characteristics.

Pigmenting Quartz gives a vast range of colour variation options while retaining its core functional properties. Bespoke colours can be produced to order.

Description

Our process of pigmenting quartz considers a number of subtle intricacies to assure that it performs as intended; such as the shape and size of the particle and the difference in characteristics when dry and when introduced to resin systems.

Most products are available in a range of standard colours with some non-standard or custom RAL colours available upon request (subject to surcharge and production availability). The colours shown may differ from the original product due to reprographics and technological media variations. The same colour in different products may also vary due to the composition and texture of the final finish. Samples: If colour and final aesthetics are of concern, please contact us to request an actual hard sample of the colour and system required.
