FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Chronicle Books names Lynn Grady Group Publisher of newly formed publishing division

SAN FRANCISCO, MARCH 21, 2022: Lynn Grady will assume the role of Group Publisher for a newly formed division within Chronicle Books that will encompass Princeton Architectural Press alongside the recently launched imprints Chronicle Prism and Chronicle Chroma effective April 1st. Grady, who was named Publisher of PA Press in November 2019 after 15 years at HarperCollins, has been instrumental in the program's exceptional growth during this period with recent bestsellers Three Pianos and Carpenters: The Musical Legacy and the upcoming release Love and Justice by artist and social justice activist Laetitia Ky. Under this new structure, Cara Bedick, Editorial Director of Chronicle Prism, and Steve Crist and Gloria Fowler, Publishing Directors of Chronicle Chroma, will continue to lead their respective imprints. Each of the three publishing programs will maintain its own vision and identity while benefiting from the combined talents across all three publishing programs and within the larger Chronicle Books organization.

Tyrrell Mahoney, President of Chronicle Books, noted "We launched Chronicle Prism and Chronicle Chroma to expand our reach and support continued growth in narrative nonfiction and high-quality illustrated publishing. Over the last two years, we have been thrilled and inspired by the growth of our sister company Princeton Architectural Press under Lynn Grady's leadership. With the creation of this new publishing division, we are confident that we can not only maintain that momentum but further build upon the creative and entrepreneurial energies and success of Prism and Chroma."

Lynn Grady said, "I am excited to assume this broader role. I have greatly admired the publishing programs of both Chronicle Prism and Chronicle Chroma and am eager to help grow their considerable stature and commercial success in the marketplace."
