

LOGISTICS CASE STUDY

Large logistics and parcel operator work with cards-x to increase depot security in the UK

Objectives

The customer was looking to increase driver security at their depots but also when out on delivery.

They were looking for a solution that could be rolled out to all UK drivers for management at each UK depot.

Challenges

The operator was looking for an ID card printer that could be delivered to each of their 84 UK depots, along with consumables.

Furthermore, they wanted an ID card printer that was easy to use and maintain.

Solutions

cards-x worked with the customer to identify an ID card printer that would meet their requirements now but also offer flexibility to upgrade if required in the future. For the customer this was the Matica MC210 and MC310 ID card printer.

OUR BENEFITS

Trust

"I chose to work with cards-x from the first meeting because I believed they could deliver what we required. They were knowledgeable and if they didn't know the answer they would go away and find the answer. This happened the whole way through the project, so trust was built, which of course is a big thing for projects like this." General Manager Security-North

Value

As a Value Added Distributor cards-x worked with Matica directly and ensured that the best pricing was achieved and expectations met. "The printers met our expectations and have fulfilled what we required." General Manager Security-North

"cards-x were easy to work with, knowledgeable, delivered on their promises and met the project expectations."
