Network License

Our CardExchange® Business and Enterprise Editions both offer centralized data and license management. You can store all your card layouts, database connections, printer settings, user profiles and more in one location that can be shared with all users. Efficient, simple, and adaptable for every user need, you can make each user interface customized based on a user and/or group profile with permissions. Whether you print to a local computer or a print farm at a central location, users can print with ease from any location on the network. Large print jobs with multiple printers can be managed with our load balancing CardExchange® Print Dispatcher in combination with our CardExchange® Print Server licenses.
