

LOS ANGELES

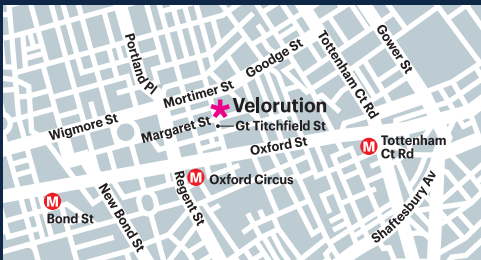

NOTEBOOKS

From $30 for A7, $35 for A6, $40 for A5, by Postalco, from Opening Ceremony, 451 North La Cienega Boulevard, Los Angeles, tel: 1.310 652 1120, www.postalco.net

Every year, Opening Ceremony scours a different part of the world, looking for unique design talent. This year, it has collaborated with Japanese stationers Postalco to produce this exclusive line of wallets and notebooks.

LONDON

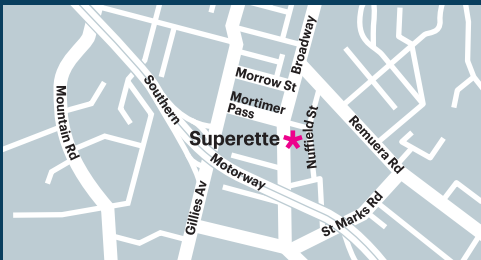

BICYCLE

£1,450, by Skeppshult, from Velorution, 18 Great Titchfield Street, London, tel: 44.20 7637 4004, www.skeppshult.co.uk

Skeppshult bikes, handcrafted since 1911 in Sweden, are finally available in Britain. To celebrate, the company has created a British model with key design features, including a hand-welded frame and leather saddle seat. It comes in cream for ladies and black for men.

AUCKLAND

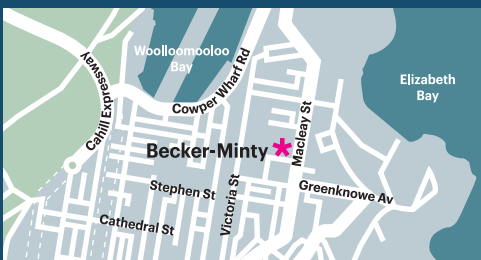

CHARM NECKLACES

From $82, by Deadly Ponies, from Superette, 2 Nuffield Street, Newmarket, Auckland, tel: 64.9 966 0440, www.deadlyponies.com

Fine jewellery is often either over-embellished or old-fashioned, but Kiwi-based label Deadly Ponies has created a collection of charms – in silver and 18carat gold – inspired by Victorian mourning jewellery. Their slightly sinister edge will appeal to both men and women.

SYDNEY

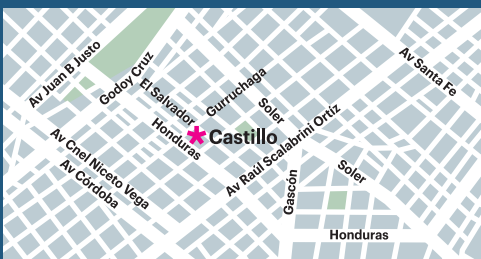

ORGANIC CLEANING PRODUCTS

'Classic Six' set, AU$79 (£37), by Murchison-Hume, from Becker-Minty, shop 7, 81 Macleay Street, Potts Point, Sydney, tel: 61.2 8356 9999, www.murchison-hume.com

Our obsessive-compulsive tendencies have kicked up a notch since we discovered these non-toxic cleaning products. The 'Classic Six' starter kit is available in juniper berry, Australian white grapefruit or fragrance-free.

BUENOS AIRES

DESERT BOOTS

Berlin boots, $156, by Felix, from Castillo, Gurruchaga 1683, Buenos Aires, tel: 54.4 833 9171, www.felixba.com.ar

We do love a good sturdy desert boot, and found this hardwearing example by Argentinian menswear label Felix in Buenos Aires. Available in black or zinc white, each pair is handcrafted by a local cobbler and bound to leave a trail of envy.

Wallpaper*