

Water Bearer Press is an indie publisher and bookshop where we approach publishing one dream at a time, and here, every day is book signing day.

Our digital consignment bookshelf is a program available for print copies of select indie authors' works. Shipments are strictly within the United States.

Indie bookstores who accept consignments usually offer a 60/40 split, they might charge a fee for shelf-space, and require you to collect unsold books under penalty of discarding them or have them donated. At best, the copies you drop off will include a generic dedication and signature, or they're simply unsigned. You have no input as to placement or promotion within the store and performance feedback is an unlikely expectation.

WaterBearerPress.Com is a unique outlet to showcase your hidden gems to readers who missed your latest signing event. If accepted, you and your book(s) will be featured in our digital Consignment Shelf. WaterBearer Press will provide a shareable link to your Indie Spotlight and will notify you of incoming orders for autographed copies of your books. You keep legal ownership of your works, and you get a generous 70/30 compensation split.
