

LET'S DRAW!

Ask your littles to choose one color. On a piece of paper, ask them to make a drawing of one of their favorite places in the world. Then, look at the drawing together and discuss how it could be different. You may conclude that if they had used more colors, their drawings would be much more vibrant.

THE DEFINITION AND EVERYDAY EXAMPLES.

Introduce your littles to the concept of diversity, what it means and how we experience it in our day-to-day lives.

Questions to ask:

To littles: What do you think diversity means?

Can you think of some examples of diversity around you?

We find it around us all the time! Let's write them down together.

Simple definition you can use: To have different elements, aspects or items in one category.

Examples of diversity you can use: colors (think of the drawing!), food, types of flowers in the garden, toys, occupations. Think of more examples and how diversity works in these cases - the more relatable to your littles, the better.

THE CASE FOR DIVERSITY AND ITS ADVANTAGES.

Next, try to understand together why diversity is important and how it improves our lives.

To littles: Let's write down (or say out loud, or even draw!) all the different examples we can think of in each category. All the different types of food, all the different types of flowers and so on ...
Why is diversity good in each category?

To littles: Recap from last time: Do you remember what diversity is? Where can we find diversity around us?

YOUR SCHOOL BUDDIES.

To littles: Think of your closest friends at school. What makes you similar? What makes you different? What do you like about them that's different from you?

YOU AND THE WORLD.

To littles: We are all unique. But we also have way more similarities than we think. I bet you can find a similarity between you and anyone you can think of, as long as you look closely enough or as long as you talk to them for long enough. Try it!

DEFINING CULTURAL DIFFERENCES.*

To littles: As for cultural differences? Do you know what those are? They are one category of differences, just like any type.

Simple definition you can use: A culture is a set of traits, beliefs and everyday habits that are shared amongst people living in the same place or during a similar time period.

After you define them, try to identify together examples of cultural differences.

CULTURAL WONDERS OF THE WORLD.

In this section, explore your littles' very favorite things that have been brought to the world by different cultures/countries - these can be dishes, music, art, activities, places. You can describe them, learn more about them, draw them or ... get more creative. Are you thinking of food? Why don't you cook it together one night? Are you thinking of music? Find some songs and listen to them.

A DEEPER DIVE.

Choose one culture you (parent) really like and teach your littles more about it.

* Depending on your littles' age, you can simplify this section by skipping the definition and replacing cultures with countries.
