

Guide on how to use witch rune dice for divination

1. Obtain a set of witch's rune dice: Make sure you have a set of dice specifically designed with witch's rune symbols instead of regular numbers. These dice typically feature a selection of witch's and pagan symbols associated with witchcraft and divination.
2. Prepare your divination space: Find a quiet and comfortable space where you can focus on the divination process. You may want to cleanse the area by burning some incense, using crystals, or performing any other rituals that help you establish a sacred atmosphere aligned with your practice.
3. Formulate your question: Clearly define the question or issue you seek guidance on. It's important to have a specific focus to guide your divination.
4. Shuffle and roll the dice: Take the witch rune dice in your hands and focus on your question. Give them a good shuffle or mix to ensure the symbols are randomized. When you feel ready, roll the dice onto a flat surface. Observe the symbols facing up on the dice.
5. Interpret the runes: Each symbol on the dice represents a specific witch rune, and you can refer to a rune reference book or an online resource to understand the meaning associated with each rune.
6. Consider the placement and combination of the runes: Pay attention to the order in which the runes appear and their position relative to each other. The placement and combination of the runes can add depth and nuance to your interpretation. Note any patterns, connections, or relationships between the symbols.
7. Reflect on the meanings and messages: Take time to reflect on the interpretations of the individual runes and their combined significance in the context of your question. Consider the messages, insights, and guidance they provide. Trust your intuition and any additional insights that arise during this process.
8. Take action or seek further clarity: Based on the divination results, you may choose to take specific actions, make decisions, or seek further clarification. Remember that witch rune divination is a tool for self-reflection and guidance. It's up to you to integrate the insights into your life and make the most of the divination experience.

Remember, divination with witch's rune dice is a personal and intuitive practice. As you become more familiar with the symbols and their meanings, your ability to interpret the messages will grow. Practice, trust your intuition, and enjoy the journey of exploring witch rune divination.

THE SUN (Midsummer)

Think: The brightness of the sun illuminates all things and chases away the shadows of doubt and depression. The sun helps plants grow and flourish.

Remember: Positive. Huge manifestations are coming. Powerful, unstoppable, masculine energy is in play. Plenty of attention is being paid to you.

Overwhelming growth is happening.

A definite “yes.”

THE MOON (Midwinter)

Think: Things are a little bit loony. The moon waxes and wanes in cycles and the full moon looks like a circle in the sky.

Remember: Negative. Past cycles are repeating themselves. However, pay attention to your intuition. Your dreams may have special messages for you during this time. There may be much secrecy and mystery going on. The moon can be a motherly, nurturing influence who gives advice that simply must be followed.

BIRDS (Imbolc)

Think: Positive. Birds in flight can swiftly travel long distances. Birds call to each other in the trees, communicating and learning the songs of one another.

Remember: Communications, news, and travel are in store. Important documents may be signed. Things are moving very fast, so you had better hit the ground running. A bridge has been crossed. There may be distant family or friends to whom a message must be communicated.

RINGS (Beltane)

Think: Unbreakable bonds are between these rings.

Remember: Positive. You can't do it alone, so form the right and lasting alliances. There may be a business partnership, a marriage, or other team formation. Seek out a partnership if none exists in the matter at hand. Probably.

ROMANCE

Think: The symbol looks like a trillium flower to me, as if offered by some loving romantic. The three loops join together in sharp points, representing the pain of coming together.

Remember: Negative. Passion has turned into obsession. Sex and romance are afoot. Diverse people are brought together in one union and so squabbling is natural. People who once had diverging views are now attempting reconciliation, but there may be spite or jaded attitudes all around. There is a raw, magnetic attraction that draws people together.

WOMAN

Think: This rune somewhat resembles a vulva and the crease between two legs. It is also the inversion of the arrow, which is the man rune.

Remember: Negative. This represents the passive, receptive energies that are often categorized as feminine. The rune can also represent a literal woman pertaining to the situation. Other feminine characteristics include nurturing, creativity, birth of something new, and cleansing energy.

MAN

Think: This rune resembles a phallus, a hunter's spear, or a straight road ahead.

Remember: Positive. This rune represents the active, dynamic energies often associated with masculinity. Actions may be decisive but reckless. The rune represents a quick and just outcome, and sometimes has an element of surprise. Something new may be initiated. Come up with a strategy to achieve your goal.

HARVEST

Think: This rune resembles a planter with a healthy plant that has fruiting berries ripe for the plucking.

Remember: Positive. The harvest rune represents the fruition of a job well done. There is abundant wealth, family happiness, and reaching the next level of development in the situation at hand. All your hard work will be mightily rewarded. Make no mistake, though, that good things take time to develop. Don't rush ahead foolishly or slack off.

THE CROSSROADS (Mabon)

Think: This rune resembles intersecting roads or crossed spears.

Remember: Negative. The path is blocked by obstacles that can only be overcome by changing direction. Be flexible, but know that sacrifices must be made or else they will be taken by the random happenstance of the universe. Things may take longer than expected. Choose your battles. Probably not.

THE WAVE (Lammas)

Think: Water is not always clear, and waves often obscure the depths. Roiling waters represent the uncontrollable waves of emotions. The land of the dead lies beyond a body of water in many myths.

Remember: Negative. Things are unclear, so a time of reflection is needed to see the situation for what it truly is. There may be a liar in your life, or somebody who is completely delusional. Great spiritual forces of mystery are at work, and so you may feel pushed and pulled by these powerful energies. Misunderstandings become emotional. Great art can come from great angst. Spirits and ancestors may be influencing you.

THE STAR

Think: This looks like an asterisk, which is sometimes called a star. Stars guided sailors at night. When you wish upon a star, your wish will come true.

Remember: Positive. A hope, a wish, or a long-term dream that you want to make into a reality. This is a lofty goal, and it's okay to dream big and have high expectations. Even when expectations are unreasonable, there may be a hidden manifestation of at least one version of the original goal. The star can represent a gift or a windfall as well as a guiding light.

THE SCYTHE

Think: This rune looks like a meat hook or scythe, and the cutting blade will cause damage that requires healing.

Remember: Negative. Warning, there is danger ahead. Slow down and be cautious about your progression forward on this path. You may need to cut out negativity and get rid of people and things that no longer serve you. There may be a parting of ways from what you once knew, such as a break up or being fired from a job. Avoid risky choices and sabotaging a good thing. You may have an enemy nearby.

THE EYE

Think: All eyes are on you, and here is one of them. Looking at somebody's eyes is how to see his or her personality.

Remember: Positive. Self. You must be independent and take time to yourself to know what you truly want and need. You are being watched. This rune has protective energy and wards off the evil eye. You can see through any malicious plans and get them straightened out before they affect your situation too much.

THE LEAF (Ostara)

Growth, abundance, promise of harvest, good fortune. A strong "maybe".

The BLACK RUNE (Samhain)

Endings and departures. Scarcity, pain and loss. A definite "no."

Pain, scarcity, loss. The Black rune is never read alone - look to surrounding runes for context.

HORNED GOD

The horned god is one of the many names given to the male aspects of spirituality and life, and this term is most often used within the tradition of Wicca. This symbol can be used to invoke the god during rituals and other magical work.

The horned god is associated with the wilderness and virility. Some people also believe that it is the horned god that carries the souls of the dead to the underworld.

THE WITCH KNOT

Also known as Magic Knot or Witch's Charm, Witch's Knot is a symbol of protection. This symbol can be drawn in a single continuous motion, which is considered as one of the reasons behind its efficacy. Witches were believed to use the symbol for binding things magically and creating circles of protection. The Witch's Knot was drawn over stables and doorways to prevent negativity from entering.

HECATE'S WHEEL

The symbol of Hecate's wheel is used to represent the three aspects of the goddess: maiden, mother, and crone. Hecate is a goddess in Greek mythology who is associated with crossroads, entrances, the moon, witchcraft, magic, herbs, necromancy, and sorcery.

The wheel is used to symbolize the power of knowledge and life and is a popular symbol in feminist traditions.

TRIADE (Triskele)

The triskele is generally considered to be a Celtic design, but it has also been found in Buddhist writings. The exact design can vary, but this symbol always features one shape repeated three times, with each repetition interlocking. Triskeles can be found all over the world; for example, they can be found carved on many Neolithic stones in Ireland and Western Europe, in the symbol for the Isle of Sicily, and on banknotes in the Isle of Man. Some Celtic traditions use the triskele to represent the realms of earth, sea, and sky.

STAR OF DAVID

Symbolize the connection between God and people or the seven virtues (kindness, severity, harmony, perseverance, splendor, foundation, and royalty).

THE ANKH

This ancient Egyptian hieroglyph means life or living. Over time the ankh has come to symbolize eternal life and immortality to people from many walks of life. In ancient Egyptian hieroglyphs, the gods were always seen carrying an ankh, making it a symbol of divinity. This symbol is also chosen by some who wish to show that they have spiritual beliefs rather than beliefs belonging to one specific religion.

THE PENTACLE

The star in this symbol is used to represent the four classical elements of earth, air, water, and fire, plus spirit. A circle is then placed around them to symbolize the connection and reciprocal relationship between them all. The pentacle is sometimes used on altars and in magical work to symbolize the element of earth.

THE SPIRAL (Spiral Goddess)

This symbol, often used by Wiccans, is used as a sign of life. The spiral represents the ever-continuing cycle of life, death, and rebirth.

The spiraling line can be seen as the constant path of life and has been found throughout history as far back as Paleolithic times, where they were carved on tombs. Spirals can also be found in many instances in nature, for example, galaxies and seashells.

TRIPLE MOON

The triple moon symbol represents the three phases of the moon, known as waxing, full, and waning. Within some paths and traditions, this symbol is also known as the triple goddess and is used to show the three phases of womanhood: maiden, mother, and crone.

The first crescent, the waxing moon, symbolizes new life, rejuvenation, and new beginnings. The middle circle represents the full moon when magic is at its most powerful. Finally, the second crescent moon represents the moon during its waning period. This time of the moon phase is a time that is regarded as the best to send things away, remove them from your life, or finish things.

Divination with one classic dice.

This method can be used for asking questions where you get simple yes/no answers.

1. Not right now. Something like this takes lots of time and planning.
2. Yes but you have to be honest.
3. Not right now. Is the problem in you?
4. Only if you are careful.
5. Don't be afraid to take chances.
6. Yes, but only if you mean it.
