2. Install the Blow Hole onto the clutch housing intake duct hose plastic connector as shown. Then install the intake duct hose onto the Blow Hole assembly. Tighten both clamps.

1. Locate the clutch housing intake duct hose. Loosen the clamp holding the hose connection together and separate the intake duct hose from the plastic connector. Leave plastic connector in place with hose connection.

3. Unplug tail light harness connector and plug in Blow Hole connector in line. Properly route and secure wires and connectors with cable ties as needed to prevent damage.
