BEST BRIDAL FOOTWEAR BRANDS

While often the focus is often firmly on the gown, to complete your wedding day look, footwear is another important element to really bring it all together. While comfort is key, and many incredible brands are putting this at the forefront of their designs, we know for many that style is also important, so your shoe choice has a major role to fulfil.

When considering your big day footwear, here are some tips to keep in mind:

- define your style – are you looking to keep your gown simple and go OTT on your footwear? Are there embellishments on your dress you could complement your shoes?
- before making your purchase, ensure you have your outfit. The length of your outfit – be it a dress, pants or other, style, colour, cut and details will all play a role in determining the perfect shoe.
- it may sound simple, but try your shoes on before committing to the purchase. And if you just can't pass up the purchase, ensure you're across the returns or exchange policy.
- keep versatility and longevity in mind – will you wear these shoes again? Can they be styled up or down?
- on your wedding day, you will be wearing your shoes for many hours, so do prioritise comfort, or at least have a pair of comfier options at the ready.
