To use an analogy, one can say that gentle healing modalities work like keys that reopen the door to health.

The Orion Electrical Dermal screening system identifies the stresses in the body to allow a regime of good health to be introduced.

What does the Orion system do?

It is a "data acquisition process" used to determine the areas of electrical imbalance in the body. It allows the Naturopath to conduct an "interview" with the body's organs and tissues, showing much about the functional status of those areas. It shows how much stress an organ is under and can guide the Naturopath on what will eliminate the imbalance. It measures electrical currents in the body, much like an EKG machine measures the electrical activity of the heart. It monitors the progress of therapy, eliminating a great deal of trial and error.

This machine clinically tests the organs and tissues of the body to establish their functional fitness. Different meridians of the body are tested to establish the stress an organ, tissue or system is under.

The Orion system has a database of readings developed after exhaustive research and converted to a scale 1-100.

What happens when a qualified professional administers the Electrical Dermal Screening?

The patient sits with a copper probe in one hand and the tester places a probe on specific meridian points in the other hand. These points are reflected on the computer and each area identifies a specific organ or tissue or system in the body.

After an electric current has been introduced to a pathway, the ohm meter within the Orion System reads the resistance and then converts it into conductance according to Dr. Voll's 100-point scale. An optimal reading is 50. Stable readings of 50 indicate a patient with a good health pattern whose body systems are "balanced." On the other hand, if a patient does not receive optimal readings, an energy imbalance has been detected. A person at optimal health will read 50 points at either end you are really really sick. Most people are up to 5 points either side of the 50.

Once this base line has been established remedies are tested to see what is appropriate to improve the health of the individual. A remedy is something that will assist the body to improve energy flow and give the body the maximum opportunity to heal itself. When the remedy is introduced if it is beneficial the base reading will change and move closer to 50.

All remedies aim to increase the flow of energy to the cells. Healthy cells must have good energy flow so that they can function effectively. Energy Imbalance compromises the cells, organs and the bodies systems. Long term stress inhibits the body's ability to heal itself.

What do the readings indicate?

The Orion system has been designed to send an electric current through electrical pathways or meridians recognised by scientists throughout the world.

Numerous meridians or pathways have been identified and verified by hundreds of years acupuncture study. Other meridians or pathways have only recently been discovered through the efforts of modern science. Each pathway corresponds to organs or systems within the body.

After an electric current has been introduced to a pathway, a metre measures the resistance and then converts it into conductance according to the inventor Dr Vols 100 point scale.

The scale is 1 to 100. An optimal reading is 50. Stable reading of 50 indicate a patient with a good health pattern whose body systems are balanced.

If a patient does not receive optimal readings then an energy imbalance has been detected. This system tests various organs and organ systems.

What is an example of the testing?

The test subject, a 51-year-old woman, was tested by Domenic Pisanelli a qualified Naturopath on March 2nd 2009. The Test subject was tested for the following organs and systems.

Organ Systems Investigated.

Hypothalamus
Kidneys
Lymphatic system
Ovaries
Adrenal system
Uterus
Nerves

What happened after the base reading was established and the Ionic Personal Protection Pendant was introduced?

The system tested to measure the energy balance of the organs and systems. It established a base line which indicated some systemic stress.

The Ionic Personal Protection Pendant was introduced and the test repeated. There was a definite variation once the energy pendant was added. All readings rose to near perfect balance.

The Ionic Personal Protection Pendant gave the body an energy drink. This allows the body's cells organs and systems to improve their function which enhances the health of the wearer.

Organ system investigated	Base reading	Reading with the Ionic Pendant
Hypothalamus	47	49
Kidneys	47	50
Lymphatic system	47	50
Ovaries	47	49
Adrenal system	45	50

Uterus	45	49
Nerves	44	50

What does the Electral Dermal Screening machine look like?

Subsequent testing using the same methods were performed with the Geoclense and other Orgone Effects Australia products, which also showed similar results.
