Our contribution to climate protection

Edible Cutlery: Your eco-friendly alternative to Single-Use Cutlery

More than 368 million tons of plastic waste are being produced globally every year. The plastic waste management system accounted for 18% of plastic recycling, 24% were incinerated, while the remaining 58% ended up as landfills in natural environment. Several regions and market players from Australia, Europe, Canada, USA, India and UK have amended new laws to phase out Single-use Plastics products like cutlery to cater to the rising demand for change. WA being one of the first states in the world to progressively phase out single use plastics.

Climate protection is close to our hearts. The life cycle assessment table shows, that Edible Cutlery is the most sustainable alternative:

- ★ Edible Cutlery consistently outperforms alternative materials in terms of CO₂, water, and energy consumption.
- ★ PLA or "Bio-Plastic" has a 2 to 6 times worse environmental footprint in comparison to other alternatives.
- ★ The commonly perceived wood, as an eco-friendly material in reality, has adverse effects on the environment, especially in the categories of energy and CO₂ consumption.
