

BESPOKE

by

SARAH STRAUSSBERG

THERE'S BEAUTY IN ORIGINALITY

And for me, there's nothing quite like bespoke jewellery to express individuality. As a designer, I take great joy in helping people find that unique story, creating work that carries meaning and memories.

From the very beginning of your commission, it's all about collaboration. So whether you have a clear vision in mind or just a rough outline of an idea, I'll work with you to bring it to life. You might already have a gemstone that's precious to you, or you might prefer for me to source something special from one of our trusted suppliers.

Either way, I can't wait to help you find the most elegant, fitting way to create a piece of jewellery that's entirely your own, and can be worn and loved forever.

BEST WISHES,

Sarah

STEP 1

COLLABORATION

This is where we begin. At a time that works for you, we'll talk about your vision for the commission. You might have certain gemstones in mind, a meaningful piece of jewellery you want to use in some way, or simply a lifelong dream in your head.

We're here to listen, get to know the story behind you and your ideas, and really understand what you have in mind.

STEP 2

DISCOVERY

Once we have enough inspiration, we'll go away and explore what your vision could become. All our thinking is captured in sketches and diagrams, to give you a feel for the essence of the design.

We'll research and present you with a range of materials that will complement your ideas, alongside options on gemstones and roughly how much those elements might cost.

STEP 3

REFINEMENT

This stage is all about perfecting your vision. Together we'll discuss what's working, what you'd like to change and then return to our design work to further refine it.

Right down the smallest details, we'll work together to make sure you're completely happy with every aspect of the piece, agreeing costs and timelines before moving into making.

STEP 4

CREATION

All our work is handmade by Sarah in our Somerset studio, using traditional techniques honed over a decade of craftsmanship, as well as 3D printing for certain pieces.

We'll let you know how long the making process will take before we begin, and keep you up-to-date with the progress of your commission right throughout its journey in the studio.

STEP 5

DELIVERY

Once your design is hallmarked, we'll agree how and when you'd like it to be delivered to you, ready to be worn.

It's all yours.
