NEOLITH LIVING RANGE SINTERED STONE

Where elegance meets functionality

---

Waterproof, scratch and heat resistant, hygienic and easy to clean; it's no surprise that Neolith Sintered Stone is a material of choice for architects, designers and fabricators, especially for those high-demand areas of the home like kitchen benchtops, splashbacks and bathroom vanities.

As a 100% natural material, Sintered Stone not only offers strength and durability, but also exquisite chromatic effects that elevate any interior space.

The Living Range offers a variety of striking, earthy colours, bringing depth and warmth to contemporary interiors.

ADD A TOUCH OF KITCHEN LUXE
With Calacatta Gold

---

Timeless, elegant and luxurious are three words we'd use to describe this stunning kitchen by award-winning kitchen designer, Shane George. Classic grey and white tones pair with Neolith Calacatta Gold on both benchtop and splashback, creating a harmonious space in the heart of this gorgeous home.

ADD A TOUCH OF KITCHEN LUXE

---

Characterised by a greyish tone with shiny gold veining, Neolith Calacatta Gold presents as a statement of class, offering depth and texture while adding a sense of lightness to the space.

Complete with a beautiful butler's sink and the practicality of this high-performance surface, this kitchen island bench offers both functionality and style.
