Sustainability

At Cleaner Future, we believe that sustainability is not just a buzzword, but a crucial aspect of our business.

Our approach to sustainability starts with the careful selection of ingredients and materials we use in our products. We are dedicated to finding innovative ways to create cleaning products that are not only effective but also environmentally responsible. Our approach to sustainability is centred around our expertise in formulation and our desire to provide the marketplace with cleaning products that are superior with respect to their detergency.

Our goal is to construct formulations that efficiently solubilize and disperse fats, oils, and dirt, thereby minimizing the amount of cleaning product required to achieve a complete clean. This not only reduces waste but also lightens the load on our sewer system and increases the rate and degree of biodegradation. We strive to use plant-based surfactants that originate from cropping, such as cane sugar and canola. These surface-active molecules are readily biodegradable and biocompatible, have low irritation and are a safer alternative to petrochemical-based surfactants.

In addition to using plant-based surfactants, we also use plant-based oil seeds wherever possible in place of petrochemical solvents. This not only reduces our carbon footprint but also ensures that our products are not contributing to the depletion of non-renewable resources. We are constantly searching for new and innovative ways to create cleaning products that are both effective and environmentally responsible.

Additionally, our focus on formulating cleaning products that are highly effective and efficient means that our customers require less product to achieve the same results, reducing their impact on the environment and helping to conserve resources.

Our company is dedicated to reducing its carbon footprint through environmentally responsible practices such as energy-efficient lighting, reducing paper usage, and promoting telecommuting and virtual meetings.

In short, Cleaner Future is committed to sustainability and is continuously working towards creating a cleaner and greener world. We believe that by working together, we can create a future where cleaning products are both effective and environmentally sustainable.

This not only benefits the environment but also contributes to the overall success of our business and the happiness of our customers.
