

ROSSO FRANCIA SLAB

The King's Quarry, Rosso Francia has a storied history, and has been sought for use in architecture, tile and marquetry since ancient times. Red Languedoc marble, which became known as "Rossi di Francia" during the Renaissance, was used extensively in royal buildings and throughout the Palace of Versailles during the reign of Louis XIV. Today Rosso Francia is used exclusively for both important historic restorations and dramatic luxury interiors around the world.

We're pleased to offer a fine selection of Rosso Francia in honed 2cm slabs as well as field and mosaic options.

NOTES

¹ This material is highly sensitive to acids. When used as a kitchen countertop, acid etching will be highly visible. Do not use this material if acid etching is a concern. For kitchen countertops we recommend a honed finish. Expect material to patina over time and create a beautiful rustic/antique look.

² Please see MIA DSDM (Dimension Stone Design Manual) for all installation instructions.

Tech Note: The M.I.A. Recommends Installing Resin-Backed Stone With Epoxy-Based Setting Materials. Consult Your Setting Materials Manufacturer for specific recommendations.
