

FOXTROT

Tailored To Waterjet Collection

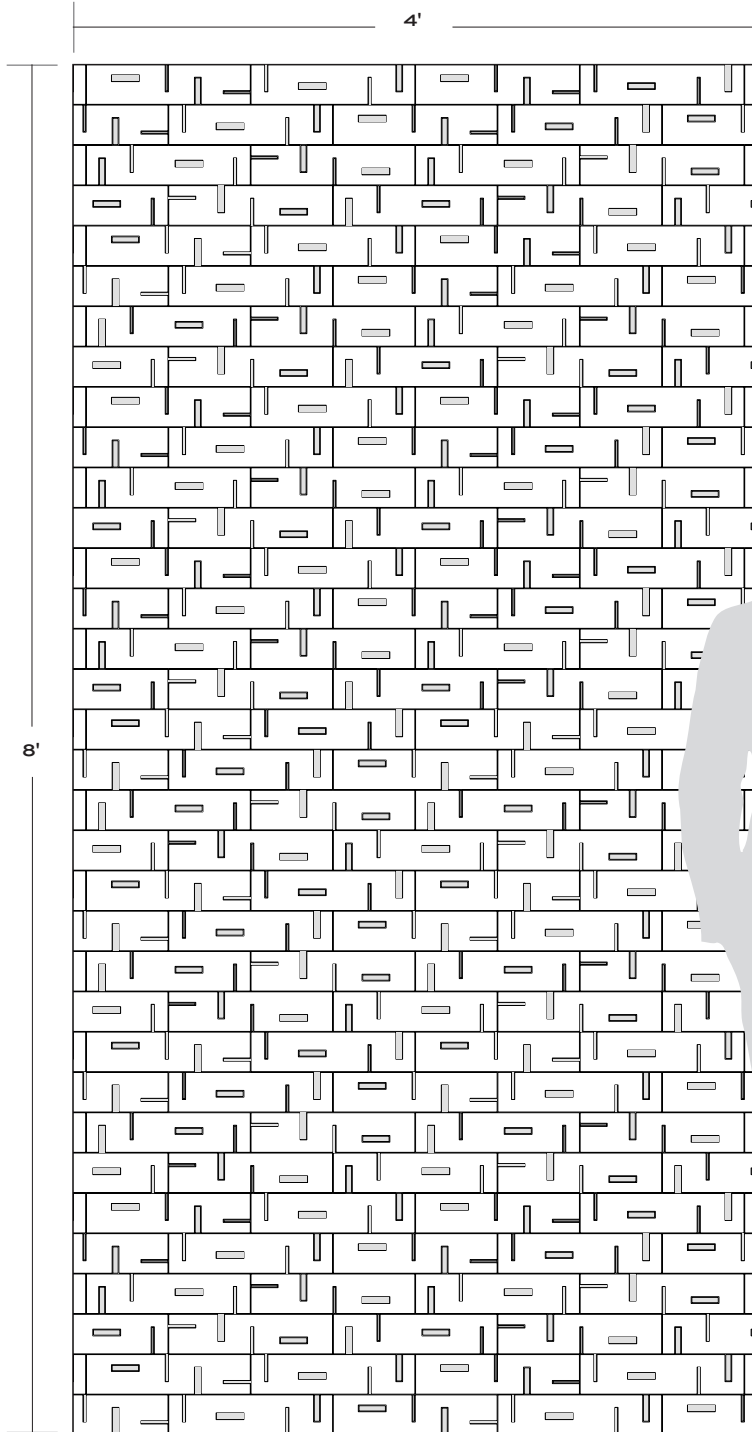

Foxtrot evokes a striking harmony: highly variable natural stone fused with perfectly linear, man-made brass accents inlaid rhythmically through elongated stone field tiles. It is a graceful dance between materials, reflecting the opulence of the Jazz Age with modern sophistication.

Brass is not suitable for wet areas

Shine can be restored with using Brasso, apply a small dot of Brasso to the affected brass. Run a shop rag or microfiber cloth on the metal. Do not use a circular motion, avoid contact with grouted areas. Use a moist paper towel to wipe off any excess Brasso, do this quickly to avoid any finish changes on stone. Test a small area before applying to entire surface.
