Strong Set XL

The Strong XL is great for moderate to large sized studios. The XL means there are extra frames and another column, giving you the versatility to film at multiple angles. Use the larger section for a news desk and then easily switch cameras to another presenter or round table discussion on the opposite side.

Planning and Design

Design Time

Our Planning and Design Service gives you one-on-one time with a designer to make your vision a reality. They work with you to dial in the details and then create 3D renderings. This provides the opportunity to try different looks before construction and means there are no surprises upon delivery.

In your quote Design is itemized by the day or week. One, 8-hour day of Design is $1,152. This includes two rendered revisions per day of Design. Standard sets usually take one, 40-hour week billed at $5,760. A week of design allows for up to 10 revisions.

Design services are cumulative. Your 8-hour day of design can span multiple business days. This gives you space to share renderings internally and make changes without any pressure.

Planning and design includes:

- Zoom or conference calls to plan with your team.
- Communicating via Basecamp to easily share images, documents, and comments from project start to delivery.
- Reviewing your budget, studio size, and timeline. This includes reviewing blueprints and preliminary drawings.
- Determining studio usage—Will it be a news show, interview panel, or both? What are your studio's limitations and opportunities?
- Exploring what products you like or dislike. What look and feel do you want?
- Selecting materials and samples—we offer lots of options for colors, finishes, graphics panels, textures, and other features.
- Rendering a 3D model and make revisions to finalize the design.
- Documenting all the fabrication specifications for your approval.
- Talking with the shop to problem solve any build challenges and ensure the finished product reflects your design.

Strong Set XL

If you're going XL, make it big and bold. Color changing lights + large scale graphics make a strong statement. Do you want something big in size but not as bright? All the laminate finishes are custom selected for each set. With all of our projects, the laminate and translucent finishes are included in the price of the frames. This photo shows 9' frames and RGBW lit columns. Ask us about pricing for 8' or 10' tall version.

The Monolith News Desk and Round Table News Desk are priced separately but look absolutely fantastic on this set. As pictured the Monolith News Desk with RGBW edge lighting is $16,479 with freight. The Round Table News Desk with two-zone RGBW lighting is $11,833 with freight.
