Prosciutto

Rex San Daniele Prosciutto, 16 lbs

This Rex Prosciutto leg comes from San Daniele, located in the Italian region of Friuli-Venezia Giulia. Aged 24 months, this San Daniele prosciutto is certified P.D.O., meaning it is of Protected Designated Origin. This certification ensures that this is genuine prosciutto exclusively produced in San Daniele in the traditional way. Master producers have been making this prosciutto the same way for generations, always delivering the signature balanced flavor for which they are known. The only ingredients used to flavor the meat are sea salt, winds from the Carnic Alps to the Adriatic Sea, and time.

Parma Prosciutto Rustico by La Torre, 17 lbs

Rustico means “unrefined” in Italian; a perfect word for this P.D.O. prosciutto from Parma, Italy. Aged for at least 16 months, the producers have left most of the fat and skin on the leg instead of removing it, creating a special taste when sliced. La Torre has been a trusted name in Italian prosciutto since 1968.
