REVIEWS

🌟 Goodreads "The Little Green Jacket is a delightful story of a green jacket that is donated multiple times when the current owner outgrows it. Jodi Dee has written a story that teaches a lesson about sharing without coming across as preachy or didactic. The characters come from a variety of socio-economic levels showing that everyone can share something. I love that the green jacket has a dialogue line on most pages, noted with an image of a green jacket and green text." - Jane

🌟 Chew and Digest Books "This book is beautiful, from the intriguing illustrations to the multitude of subtle messages/morals that it covers. Things like recycling is a good thing, all people and kids have their own challenges, helping one another even if they'll never meet and more. All of this in 44 pages that are so well done that I'd love to have them framed on my wall."

🌟 Bound 4 Escape "The Little Green Jacket is a children's story that shows how many lives can be touched by just one item through donations... Through this story, children can learn about the importance of a simple donation."

REVIEWS CONTINUED

✚ Children's Bookshelf "What a great concept for a book! Follow the life of a green jacket, narrated by the jacket itself it takes you through a wonderful journey as it enters the lives of a handful of different children of all walks of life. Very well written and boasting excellent artwork in black and white with a splash of color on the jacket itself. Highly recommend this one and it's based on real events."

✚ Reader's Favorite "Jodi Dee's picture book story, The Little Green Jacket, is quite simply amazing. In adult literature, this simple children's tale would compare to the 1998 movie The Red Violin as an object, in this case, a green jacket, makes its way from one owner to the next, sharing its warmth, love and the magic of caring..." - Emily Jane-Hills

✚ She Just Loves Books "I thought this was such a unique story. I don't think I have ever read a children's book focusing on the donation life cycle of something. It was really nice to see the variety of ways the jacket finds its way to the new owners, and I liked that it helps so many different types of people!" - Bree Ann
