THEY WERE MEANT TO FORAGE

They were meant to forage.

Our patent-pending Forager® Bowls promote slower eating, mental enrichment, and reduce stress for pet parents' furbabies. Promoting slower eating habits help prevent bloat, choking, and vomiting, keeping pet parents' home clean and furbabies happy and healthy. With 3 different styles and colors, Forager® Bowls create levels of difficulty by engaging multiple senses such as sight with visual cues, touch with discoverable meadows, and scent with proprietary length "grass" to help strengthen confidence and encourage mental enrichment. This interaction can help to reduce anxiety in furbabies by requiring focus and providing distraction from stressful environments or situations, preventing destructive behaviors that can be frustrating to pet parents.

Designed with safety in mind, Forager® Bowls are made with our proprietary triple-stitched SoftSnout™ that will not irritate furbaby noses, gums, or tongues. Forager® Bowls are designed to easily travel and store with our cinching feature, making them easy to pack away for a long adventure or after dinner. Pet parents can use Forager® Bowls as travel bowls, mental enrichment toys, or interactive eating experience to encourage slower eating habits, increase feeding motivation, and provide mental stimulation for their furbabies!

Why Forager® Bowl?

Mental Stimulation

It can be challenging for pet parents to provide all the enrichment that their dog or cat needs. Our Forager® Bowls come in three different styles and colors that provide different difficulty levels by engaging a range of senses. Meadows are visual cues that lead to food, using colors pets can see with Ponds, and mimicking an outdoor environment with Natural. Forest engages the sense of smell, and hides food with no meadows in the tall, dense grass. All Forager® Bowls engage furbaby brains to problem solve and encourage them to work for their rewards.

Interactive Toy for All Ages

Senior pets may not be able to move like they used to, but pet parents still want to ensure that they are living a fulfilled, happy life. Forager® Bowls can provide exercise supplementation and help furbaby brains stay active, 15 minutes of Forager® Bowl can be equivalent to an hour's walk in terms of enrichment for cats and dogs, and help produce happy hormones to focus their energy into foraging, reducing stress and promoting calm. Forager® Bowls are suitable for all lifecycle stages and the challenges they bring, from adolescence to the senior years.

Slow Feeder to Prevent Bloat

Because all furbabies like cats, dogs, and rabbits can be affected by bloat, and risk increases as pets get older, pet parents may need to be educated the potential dangers of bloat and provided solutions that can help to prevent it, such as Forager® Bowls. Help your customers protect their pets by providing a safe, interactive way to slow down eating that harnesses their natural instincts to forage for their food with Forager® Bowls.

Anti-Anxiety Activity

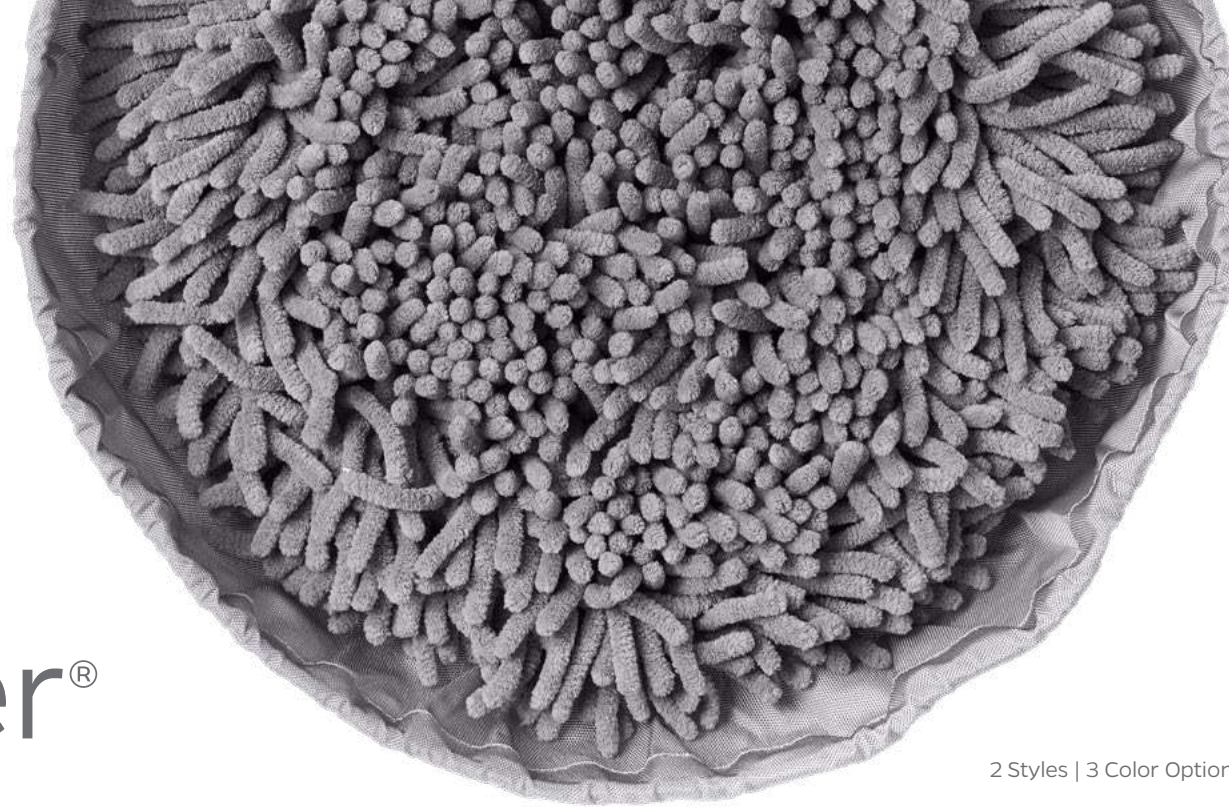

You have probably gotten questions about what products can help anxious pets or can prevent destructive behavior. Forager® Bowls can help to decrease anxiety in pets by using their natural instincts to forage for food, and refocusing their energy into problem solving to ease and soothe a busy mind with activity.

Size

1 One Size (9")

Though Forager[®] Bowls can be cinched or loosened to any size, we chose 9", a purrfect size for a meal or hiding treats for all furbabies!

Washable Slow Feeder Dog Bowl

The least challenging style of Forager[®] Bowls, Ponds are great for a beginner, a new addition to the family, or a furbaby that might get easily frustrated. Shorter SoftSnout[™] meadows in a color furbabies can see helps create visual cues of where food will be, minimizing frustration and maximizing stimulation!

Mimicking a furbaby's natural foraging environment - outside! While still having shorter SoftSnout[™] Meadows that can provide a visual cue, these Forager[®] Bowls have more challenging colors that camouflages food and treats to be more difficult to find, and furbabies must rely on their sense of smell and touch more than sight!

The most difficult style of Forager[®] Bowls, pets must rely on scent alone to find their food. The tall, dense SoftSnout[™] and modern grey color hide food and provide no visual cues, making it the most challenging Forager[®] Bowl ideal for active furbabies & problem-solvers who might've mastered a Meadow Forager[®] Bowl.

Patents Pending

1. SoftSnout[™]

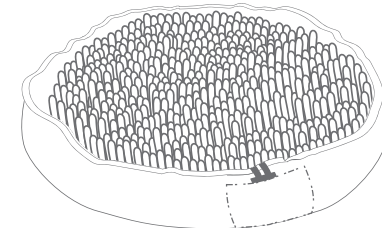

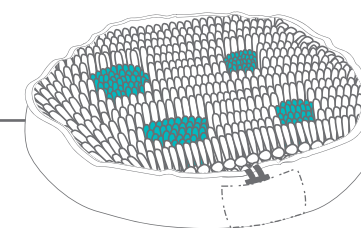

Because we love wet nose kisses, we created our pet-safe SoftSnout[™] material to be non-abrasive and non-irritating to furbaby noses, gums, or tongues while they search for their next treat.

2. Nosework Development

Pets use their noses like we use our brains, working through Forager[™] Bowl is much like solving an intense math problem, with the reward being a full tummy once solved! No more frustrated furbabies flipping over their bowls.

3. Triple Stitched

Dogs love to play hard, so we don't mess around with single stitching. Triple stitched material adds durability and toughness for all foragers!

4. Anti-Slide Backing

Our proprietary anti-slide backing was specifically designed to hug the floor and help to provide a more slide-resistant experience to furbabies while searching for their treats!

5. Washable

Pets can't control their sloppy messes. Luckily, Forager[™] Bowls are made from easily washable materials, so they can be washed and back in your furbaby's paws by dinnertime.

6. Drawstring Pocket

Designed with safety in mind, our Forager[™] Bowls include a pocket to place excess drawstring into to help keep furbabies focused and help minimize choking hazards.

7. Visual Stimulation

Mimicking a clearing in a forest, our meadows add excitement for any furbaby by creating a jackpot of multiple treat and food pieces to prevent frustration and encourage continued foraging!
