

YOU WILL NEED

- 25cm of Hessian cloth in 2 colourways OR 50cm of Hessian cloth if using one print only
- Scissors
- 1 pack of 25cm Black Bias binding
- Scrap piece of paper to make a template
- Ruler
- Pen
- Sewing machine
- Iron

DIFFICULTY ●●●

Instructions

Step 1: Cut a triangle template by drawing a line 18cm long. Mark the Halfway point (9cm), And draw a line straight down from that point 22cm long. Draw ruled lines joining the outside points of these lines.

Step 2: Use the template to cut bunting out of your two pieces of fabric. You can line the pattern up top to tail like this / \ / \ / \ / \ / \ / \ /.

Step 3: Iron the bias binding in half widthways to make sewing easier. Press any hessian triangles that have been bent or folded (easier than ironing later).

Step 4: Slip the wide end of the bunting into the folded bias binding and pin in place, overlap the triangles as you go and alternate between one print and the other.

Step 5: Using a wide zig-zag stitch, stitch along the entire length of the binding to keep the hessian triangles in place. Hang and enjoy!
