

Foam head

1 headband

45cm of 35mm wide red velvet ribbon

40cm of red veiling

1mt of 2.5cm wide red sinamay ribbon

1 bunch of red stripped coque feathers

1 bunch of black stripped coque feathers

2 black chenille sticks

Hot glue gun & glue sticks

Craft glue

Hand sewing needle and red thread

Wrap the ribbon around the headband and glue at the back of the headband with the craft glue. Place the covered headband onto the foam head.

This makes it much easier to work on the fascinator. Cut the chenille sticks into 2cm pieces and place these randomly on the veiling by wrapping them through the spaces and folding them in on both sides. Using the hand sewing needle and thread gather up one side of the veiling then across the top and down the other side so that the veiling is gathered into a U shape, pull this in tightly and using the hot glue gun, glue to the headband slightly off centre. Fold the sinamay ribbon into 5 loops and secure with the needle and thread at the bottom. Attach this to the top of the veiling.

Separate the feathers and trim to the desired length, using a very small blob of glue from the hot glue gun, stand each feather individually into the centre of the loops and hold until the glue sets.
