

You will need

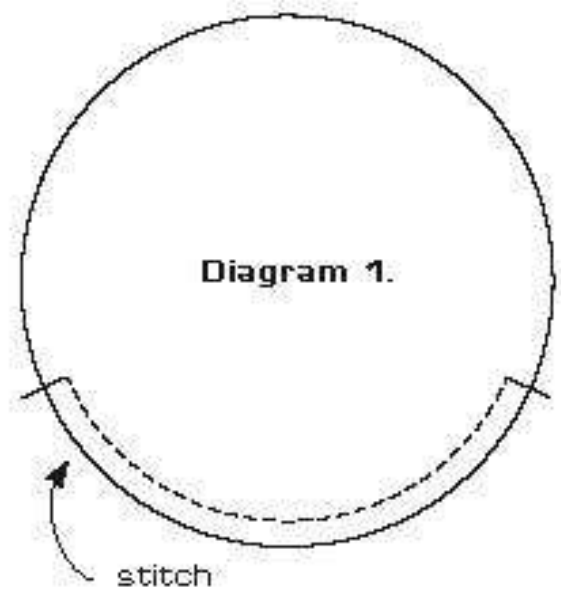

2 large disc fascinator bases

2 flowers of your choice

Hot glue gun

Needle and matching thread

Scissors

This very simple hatinator can be made in any colour combination of your choice. Why not try black and cream, red and black or brown and bone. Use any large flower or crinoline loops look terrific too.

Cut the comb and small base from the underneath of one of the large disc bases. Place the base with the comb and small base removed over the other, making sure that the comb of the lower base is facing in the correct direction for your hair. Sew the top base to the lower one from point A to B in diagram 1, using the needle and matching thread so that no stitches are seen.

Flick the top base back so that it looks like an open clam. Using the hot glue gun, glue one flower to the top of this flicked back piece and the other inside the opening. Allow the glue to dry.
