Brydge launches range of premium mobile accessories

Award-Winning Manufacturer launches range of premium mobile accessories

LAS VEGAS (Jan. 9, 2018) – Brydge, a market leader in premium tablet keyboards, is excited to announce its new range of premium mobile accessories. The range of new accessories includes slimline protective cases for the iPad, universal mobile batteries, premium charging cables, and tablet screen protectors. The new range is being exhibited by Brydge at CES 2018 in the LVCC South Hall at booth #31814.

Brydge has gained a cult following for its design-focused wireless keyboards for the Apple iPad and Microsoft Surface. It is now bringing this same design focus to the essential tech accessories for the modern lifestyle.

The new products include:

- Slimline protective cases for the 10.5-inch iPad Pro and 12.9-inch iPad Pro
- Universal mobile batteries in 5,000mAh, 10,000mAh, and 15,000mAh
- Flexible tempered glass screen protectors for iPad and Surface Pro
- 1.2m DuPont Kevlar Reinforced USB cable (with double weaved nylon outer layer) available with Lightning & Micro-USB connections.

These new products come with a best-in-class limited lifetime warranty.

“We have gained a legion of dedicated customers over the last four years who are demanding premium design across their mobile experience.” said Co-CEO, Nicholas Smith. “These customers have come to recognize Brydge as a provider of cutting edge design and reliability, and we wanted to deliver these same qualities to our customers across all aspects of the mobile experience.”

These products are currently available for purchase at Amazon.com and <http://www.brydgekeyboards.com>.
