SVIP

C. F. Møller Architects, 2020

Type Tray Table

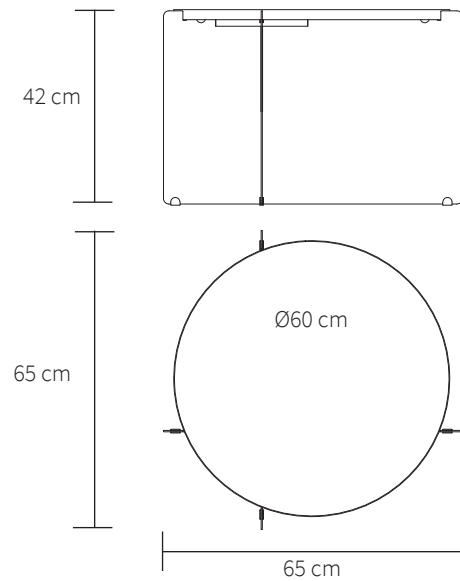

Colours Black

Svip was designed by acclaimed and award-winning C.F. Møller Architects with a straightforward and simple expression. Svip has the same modern Nordic expression as the Retell notice board, which was also designed by C.F. Møller Architects. In addition, the table is a beautiful reflection of the designers' passion for architectural quality. The technical, functional and aesthetic qualities of the design come together in a sublime table that clearly has more to offer than simply looking beautiful.

Svip's frame consists of two asymmetrically positioned aluminium plates that fit smoothly together to form a practical space. The table can be assembled into a stable construction in seconds. The steel tray comes with a light grey mat in specially developed rubber. The mat can be laid on top of the tray to provide a more practical surface than the black steel and bring an instant change in expression.
