

Anderson Excalibur Chest Mount - 0931

This mount will allow you to chest mount your Minelab Excalibur electronics and battery. Because of different body types and detecting styles you must take the time to properly adjust your new harness for the best performance. This system has unlimited adjustability allowing you to position your detector in a spot that will work best for you. If you find that you have an excess amount of webbing after you have adjusted and tested your harness you may want to trim some off.
