

Brave Sis Project Facilitations

Joyfully activating the inner shift that makes anti-racism and allyship authentic and sustainable.

Learn + Grow: Discover how these Brave Foremothers can inspire the lives we are living and the impact we seek to ignite.

NAVIGATE THROUGH “BLIND SPOTS”

Build trust, belonging, and personal growth.

Gain sensitivity to a deeper, nuanced understanding of intersectionality, privilege, and how systemic harms perpetuate.

Explore more appropriate ways of showing appreciation, inviting curiosity and creating mutuality.

Connect to The Ten Cardinal Sins of Failed Allyship to engage in individual awareness-building and blind-spot correcting.

“Best one-hour transformative training to understand intersectionality.”

— Gabrielle Durana, President, Ecole Française Bay Area

THE PRIVILEGE STAIRCASE

Exploring typical levers of privilege (race, gender, class, and economic status), lesser-expected ones (body type, ability) and a few deep cuts (voting rights, autonomy over the hours of our day).

From the bottom of the staircase to the top, we explore and discuss how “privilege” is a multi-sided die, and how the way we cast it has such an enormous impact on our selves, our interpersonal relationships, and how we see and build community.

bit.ly/privilege-staircase

DETAILS

- 8-40 participants
- Two hours

All workshop attendees receive a 1/2 hour follow up video to deepen/continue inner work; 10% discount to Brave Sis online store; digital copy of original Brave Sis Journal.

Bulk purchase of Our Brave Foremothers available through Workman Press.

FOR MORE INFO:

hello@bravesis.com

Rozella Kennedy is a thought-leader and mentor; author and content creator; strategic, creative, and community advisor; and celebrant, specializing in equity, intersectional women’s history and storytelling as a tool for social change. She is the author of Our Brave Foremothers: Celebrating 100 Black, Brown, Asian, and Indigenous Women Who Changed the Course of History (Workman, 2023). Her publications and social media platforms have reached thousands of readers and engagers in over a dozen countries on six continents.

She also serves as Director of Impact and Equity for global strategic advisory firm Camber Collective, guiding internal Impact, Equity, and Belonging work as well as the external practice supporting the humanitarian, development, philanthropic, and social impact sectors.

bravesis.com