Ingredients

Cranberry

Cranberry's antioxidant-rich and anti-inflammatory properties are known to prevent Urinary Tract Infections (UTI). It contains hippuric acid and proanthocyanidins, which help to prevent the growth of Escherichia coli (E. coli) bacteria and reduce the occurrence of UTIs. E. coli is a type of pathogenic bacteria that binds to the lining of the bladder and urinary tract. It is responsible for 80-90% of UTIs. Cranberry helps to relieve UTI symptoms such as pain or burning sensation whilst urinating, lower abdominal pain, and foul-smelling, bloody or cloudy urine. As Cranberry is naturally acidic, it can help to prevent the formation of alkaline stones in the urinary tract.

Pumpkin Seed Extract

Studies have shown that Pumpkin Seed Extract can help to increase maximum bladder capacity and muscle strength, and help to reduce urinary urgency and incontinence as well as prevent prostate enlargement in men. StrongBladder™ undergoes a proprietary process named HyperPure to obtain water-soluble Pumpkin Seed for increased stability, solubility and absorption.

Soy Germ Isoflavonoids

Soy Germ Isoflavones are plant estrogens that can help to balance the body's hormone level, relax bladder muscles and reduce tissues degeneration. It can also help to treat oestrogen deficits in menopausal and post-menopausal women.
