Sparkling Moscato / Hunter Valley / 2022

Home to Peter Drayton Wines at the foot of the Brokenback range is IronBark Hill Vineyard, named after the intrinsically Australian eucalyptus trees found on the property. IronBarkHill wines celebrate the Hunter Valley with the boldness and craftsmanship that is synonymous with Peter Drayton.

Colour

Pink sunset.

Nose

Aromas of rose petals and peach.

Palate

Guava, nectarine, and rose petal.

Winemaking

Muscat grapes were hand-picked to reduce releasing anthocyanins from the skins which bring out the colour in red wines. The grapes were then pressed and fined to produce a clear juice before fermenting in stainless steel tanks. From here, residual sugar was maintained in the wine and ferment was stopped. It was then filtered and bottled fresh ready to drink for your enjoyment.

Food Pairing

Hard cheese and desserts.

Vintage Notes

Vintage conditions in the Hunter Valley produced above average rain fall. Although this demanded a lot more work in the vineyard, it was in our favour as it also meant that the fruit presented with a desired balance of acid and sugar. This characteristic was displayed in all the Hunter Valley wines we produced in the 2022 vintage.
