FEATURED ARTICLE

By Gayle Emberstone

Why do you love making your craft and sharing it?
February is the month of love. Not just love for others but a time to love yourself and your craft!
Crafting is good for your brain and gives you something productive with a sense of achievement. For me, each new project is an adventure and it also makes me feel great surprising friends and family with gifts I've made. Crafting comes in many different forms and can be fun, relaxing and immensely satisfying. Remember it's ok to have more than one craft and try new things! Adventures are not written in stone, where will your next craft take you?
