SUSTAINABILITY

You are exposed to nature and its forces not only at work but also in everyday life. We aim to treat our Earth and its resources with care and shape the future with a focus on nature.

We are searching for meaningful and resource-efficient solutions to ensure the sustainability of our clothing and our processes. Together with our customers and suppliers, we put our resolutions into action.

With our high-quality materials, we ensure the longevity of our products. For example, we use YKK zippers, Cordura as an exceptionally durable material, 3M reflectors, fluorescent outer fabrics, and LOXX buttons in our collection. The proportion of recycled polyester according to Global Recycled Standards (GRS) is steadily increasing. These materials mostly come from Taiwan and China, but also from Germany. We use state-of-the-art production methods.

Our clothing is manufactured in China and Bangladesh. We have long-standing relationships with all our production facilities. The factories are either BSCI or WARP certified, which means that the regulations regarding working conditions comply with both national and international standards.

We reduce lead times and keep pattern requirements and courier costs as low as possible using the latest 3D technology. We take particular pride in our 3D simulations. This process works as follows: After creating an initial sketch with all technical data, a first sample can be made. To do this, a pattern must be created. Based on the pattern, the garment is virtually stitched together in a 3D program. We can then virtually try on the garment on a computer - using an avatar we've set up. During this process, initial designs are created, fittings are simulated, detailed solutions are worked out, and different color variations and materials are experimented with. This accelerates and streamlines the product development process.

Undoubtedly, our clothing covers long distances. We primarily transport it via regular sea and rail freight from China. Thanks to our location in Hamburg, the journey from the Hamburg port to our warehouse is short. Shipping to you is done via courier or freight transport. When it comes to packaging, we completely avoid poly bags. For individual packaging, we have developed a reusable bag.

For individual customer shipping, we partner with DHL.
