
About Fagron US

We supply high-quality raw materials and innovative products for use in pharmaceutical compounding in the US. This includes an extensive range of products covering pharmaceuticals, nutraceuticals, cosmetics, veterinary, and other industries.

Our customers have access to a wide range of pharmaceutical raw materials, in addition to equipment and compounding supplies.

We have sourcing offices in South America, North America, Europe and Asia. Our global reach helps us to efficiently audit, qualify, and source our pharmaceutical raw materials.

This results in full traceability and a high-quality standard for each of the products in our range. On-site producer audits, certification checks, and performance assessments guarantee the consistent quality of all Fagron products.

Together
we create the future of personalizing medicine.
