FURNITURE VIEWER

Sometimes it’s quite difficult to imagine what a piece of furniture will look like after you’ve designed it the way you would like it. With our new furniture viewer you can view all of our products in 360 degrees. In several configurations and in all available fabrics. Now that’s handy, isn’t it?

OUR STORY

In 2013 Femke Furnée founded FEST, an interior design brand that makes decorating much more fun and easy thanks to its excellent services and accessible design collection. Whilst decorating her first apartment, the 26-year-old art history student found there was a serious lack of well-designed furniture for an affordable price. Her entrepreneurial nature and love for aesthetics led her to the start of an incredible journey. Making high-end design and great service accessible.

LOCAL CRAFTSMANSHIP

All furniture is produced in Europe -
the majority within the Netherlands.

04

MADE BY DESIGNERS

We work with international designers.
Big names and talented freshmen.

SUSTAINABILITY

We believe beautiful things shouldn't cost the earth. But fact is: they often do. That's why we're eager to continuously improve ourselves. For a better world.

THIS IS HOW:

LOCAL HEROES

All of our furniture is made in Europe, the majority even in the Netherlands. This allows us to stay in close contact with our factories, ensure a safe working environment and guarantee the high quality of your new furniture. Plus: it saves loads on toxic transport emissions.

THOUGHT THROUGH MATERIALS

Raw, responsible and durable. A better world all starts with the base. That's why we focus on responsible use of raw materials. Whether that's through recycling, durability, certificates or new technologies.

MADE TO LAST

Focusing on high quality, timeless design and durability. Durability is what we aim for. In the sense of high quality and timeless design. We want you to enjoy your furniture and home décor. Not just for this season, but for years to come. That's why we work with local designers, craftsmen and specialised manufacturers.

OHMMM
‘The first thing I do when I wake up is brush my teeth. After that, I meditate. At least 15 minutes, but if I have time, I can easily go for an hour.’

RUSTIC LIVING
‘I grew up in a very Mexican interior: lots of dark wood, simple furniture, pretty classical interior wise. Most Mexican homes are very open: big windows, large gardens, very rustic.’

DO(G)-RE-MI
‘When I’m home alone I sing to my dog and dance with her. Pony is my partner in crime.’

ROSEMOJI
‘Lately I’ve been using the red rose emoji a lot, as in: for everything. But my favourite one is the heart. Or the happy smiley. Only positive ones, that’s for sure.’

ON REPEAT
‘Nina Simone, Frank Sinatra, The Platters; I’ve been watching the series The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel – about a woman in 50’s New York. It’s great because it has this nice vintage vibe and amazing soundtracks.’

MORE PLS!
‘I’m obsessed with crisps. Tyrell’s Seasalt & Cider Vinegar are my favourite. Bitter, salty, sour.. It has everything. I eat them the Mexican way: with Valentina spicy salsa.’

TEACH ME
‘If I could buy a skill, it would be playing the piano. I’ve always wanted to learn it, but I’m too impatient.. I just want to learn it fast, and be able to fully do it NOW.’

WOOPS
‘I love my white carpet, but with a peeing dog at home, it may not have been my best decision ever. Same for the plant I put on top of my 2 metre high closet. It looked great, but I kept on forgetting to water it because it was so high up. So.. it died. Poor thing.’

BEST BUY
‘Without a doubt: the marble dining table I had order made. Maybe it’s the type of stone, but it makes me feel calm. I really want to sit at it, work at it, eat at it. It attracts positive vibes.’

MEANT TO BE
‘I love my Dunbar sofa. It’s so peaceful and it has the perfect size: it’s big enough to have company, while it doesn’t feel too big when I’m alone either. The fabric is beautiful and great to sleep on – yep, I speak from experience haha.’

EAVESDROPPING
‘If I could be an item in my home I would be my plant in the living room. Listening to all the conversations, being included in the party. Or my table, because that’s where everyone’s happy, eating, enjoying themselves.’

A LITTLE MEXICO IN PARIS
‘The most Mexican thing in my Parisian home? Alebrijes. They’re wooden figures that represent spiritual guidance. They’re a mix of all sorts of mythological creatures. I love the story and artisanry behind it.’

TONE IT DOWN
‘The apartment I’m in is pure Paris: high ceilings, historical parquet, marble chimney, French balconies. Combined I with my marble table it just all became a bit too French. I like how the FEST candles – with their 80’s American vibes – tone down the Parisian-ness a bit, in a very cool way.’

SNEAK PEEK
‘I would love to have a look in Cate Blanchett’s home. She’s one of my favourite actresses and I would love to see what she’s reading and how she goes about her life in private. Another one is the Mexican actress Maria Felix. She past away a long time ago already, but she was amazing. Such a diva. I imagine that she had all these great secrets in her house.’

GETTING USED TO IT
‘Living on a boat is the best thing in the world. You live with the seasons more. Waking up and being able to swim right away is magical. The boat itself is a concrete chunk, not that charming. But with a warm colour palette and a lot of love, you’ll get pretty far.’

COLOUR PLS!
‘My dad was the OG Amsterdam hipster influencer: white walls, black leather designer chair. That’s how I grew up: without any colour. Can you imagine? I personally created my own big colour show: I refused to go out without 10 pigtails with flowers and beads in my hair. I believe you’ll experience happiness if you live the dream you had when you were 7 years old. So in my case, that’s with chickens and rabbits on a pink boat.’

ECO BOAT
‘Everything in here is sustainably produced or secondhand. From my homemade curtains to the vintage kitchen tiles a friend gave me. Okay, almost everything: I have no idea how eco-friendly my kitchen tools are, I must admit.’

TIME MACHINE
‘I couldn’t find a nice sofa anywhere until I saw

Huf: feminine, round. It feels like you’ve stepped into a 70’s movie. I hesitated between ochre, pink and green, so I ordered a couple swatches. When I felt this fabric I instantly knew this was it: it’s super warm and inviting.’

SUSTAINABILITY IS..
‘Not for sale. I think the connection you feel with something is much more sustainable. Whether it’s clothing, a sofa or something else; if you know the story behind it, connect with it emotionally, ultimately that’s the reason you don’t throw it away. That scarf your grandmother knitted for you years ago (and still have), is more sustainable than the super eco organic recycled cotton thing that you don’t feel anything for.’

ON MY BEDSIDE TABLE
‘There are a candle, a hot water bottle and a book – such a cliché, haha. Oh, and I have a teddy bear. Actually two: Flappie and Bear.’

WAKE ME UP FOR
‘A wild adventure! Climbing the Himalayas or something. But a hug from a friend will also do. Or if someone would wake me up and say, “Chicken Plum wants another hug,” that’s fine too!’

BEST INTERIOR LESSON
‘I lived in an industrial loft in Berlin: windows everywhere, a bed that overlooked the living room, ultra-modern. Probably the dream of the average 36-year-old bachelor crypto man, but not for me. I wanted to make it a kind of Italian palazzo, so I painted all the walls dark red. It turned out extremely ugly!’

So my only rule is: don’t try to make your house something it doesn’t want to be. Look at it and see what it can and cannot take. Sure you can cheat a bit. Like I did here, painting those quirky edges along the ceiling to give it a little more character – although I don’t know if I’ll leave it that way – but there are limits.’

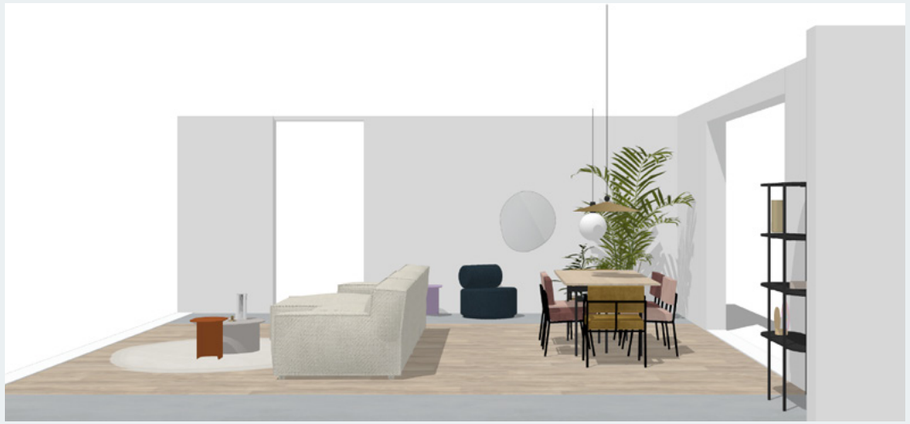
THE FEST EFFECT

Awesome house, lots of space, cast floor, custom cabinets, vintage furniture. Ellen Huls' self-built barn house had it all. And yet, there was something missing. Ellen was looking for more unity and a fresh contemporary–but also luxurious–look. Well, leave that to FEST's interior stylist Femke de Gans.

'Femke created unity. The colour and design of the chairs fit perfectly in our kitchen and living room and they're super comfortable as well. The home décor completes it all. We couldn't be happier with the end result.'



WITH 3D TOOLS, WE VISUALIZE YOUR FUTURE HOME FOR FREE.

NOT THE ONLY ONE
'It's a common struggle with large, modern spaces: creating unity. Especially if the functions of the house are divided into different rooms, which means there simply is more space to bridge.'

A GOOD START
'What stays? What needs to be replaced? And which elements are important to take into account? In order to clarify the focus, these are the questions we started with.'

FROM CARPET TO TV CABINET
'Ellen really liked the burgundy red of her Persian carpet. The green part in the custom-made TV cabinet was something to keep in mind since Ellen likes the green, but she didn't necessarily want more of it.'

COLOUR CONFESSION
'So, no to green, yes to red. In combination with the sleek and modern base of the house, we came up with a ton-sur-ton colour palette of warm reds, pinks and browns (Royal Magnolia and Royal Bordeaux). Deep and earthy tones to add warmth and cosiness, with a focus on burgundy and pink to make a link to the carpet in the other room.'

TON-SUR-TON
'We chose some shades from the carpet, but applied them in different gradations to create more layers and not let the burgundy dominate.'

NEAT MESS
'Different dining room chairs can be great fun, but they can also quickly look messy. A solution: the same type of chairs, with different upholstery, but in colours that are close to each other.'

FRIENDLY DESIGN
'A ton-sur-ton colour combination has a soothing effect on modern interiors. If you take one shade of red (which is quite a fierce, dominant colour) and with white walls as the base, you'll end up with a pretty stark contrast. By using multiple gradations of a colour, you soften that. It looks friendlier and more design-y.'

Martin Hirth

Introducing the brilliant mind behind the design

Rationality and basic forms meet flair – according to German designer Martin Hirth, that's the best way to describe his style. But what about the man behind the design? A quick Q&A with the designer of the Bolster & Huf sofas, the Friday family, and funky candles like Miro, Gala and Wocky.

WHAT DO YOU CONSIDER YOUR GREATEST ACHIEVEMENT TO DATE?
'Fulfilling my dream to become a designer.'

IF BOLSTER WAS A PERSON, HOW WOULD YOU INTRODUCE HIM/HER/THEM TO YOUR FRIENDS?
'Hi folks! This is Bolster, he will be your best buddy – for sure!'

WHICH OF YOUR FEST DESIGNS IS YOUR FAVOURITE?
'That's like having to choose between your kids: impossible! Just like each child, each design is beautiful in its own way.'

WHAT DO YOUR DESIGNS SAY ABOUT YOU?
'That I'm trying to make the world an aesthetic and sustainable place.'

WHAT'S YOUR BEST INTERIOR PURCHASE EVER AND WHY?
'A glossy, dark red lacquered high board. It's a vintage find and it's so clear and playful at the same time. Truly a unique piece of furniture.'

WHAT KIND OF HOME DID YOU DREAM ABOUT AS A KID?
'As a kid I actually didn't even think about any other home than the one I lived in. I grew up in a little village in the Black Forest (Germany). We were surrounded by nature, the perfect kids' playground.'

AND NOW?
'An old building in the hills of Tuscany–optimally with a sea view–would be my dream for now.'

MY BIGGEST INTERIOR CRINGE IS...
'Low ceilings.'

WHAT CAN WE ALWAYS WAKE YOU UP FOR?
'Something unexpected.'

WHEN WAS THE LAST TIME YOU WERE PROUD?
'A few weeks ago, I received a parcel with the final prototypes of a very complex development. We've been working on this product for over two years and it was quite a challenge to perfect it.'
