Each Smithsonian twist-top rollerball pen has the Smithsonian logo engraved on the top ring and sun logo on the top disc. A serial number is engraved as well on the top ring and each pen is packaged in a matching commemorative tube.

The Corona pen has a deeply etched barrel reminiscent of the ornamental bronze-colored metal lattice that covers the outside of the National Museum of African American History and Culture building in Washington D.C.

Gene Davis's Hot Beat is part of the Smithsonian American Art Museum's permanent collection. He was quoted saying, "it seemed to feel right, as we entered the sixties, to have color that leaped right off the wall ... It's almost as if I wanted to shout, rather than to whisper." You'll definitely be writing boldly with this Tornado printed in matching stripes to replicate this painting.

National Museum of Natural History's Dino Fossil pen is acid-etched with several dinosaur bones so you can actually feel them. The barrel and trim are plated in antique copper to give it an earthy feel and then the dinosaurs are top printed to highlight the unearthed bones.

National Museum of the American Indian's Raven Steals the Sun was designed by Tlingit artist James Peter Johnson featuring a print of traditional Tlingit art on the barrel of this Tornado and complete with antique silver accents. Hummingbird & Flowers was designed by Native American artist Dr. Shirley Brauker featuring woodblock art that has been acid-etched and then plated in stonewashed copper finish and matching accents.

The National Zoo's Panda features multiple pandas printed on the lightly textured lacquer barrel and finished with antique silver accents. 2022 marks fifty years of Panda Conservation at the National Zoo in Washington D.C.

The Smithsonian name and logo are registered trademarks of the Smithsonian Institution.

ROUTE MASTER • The Route Master evokes the iconic vintage postal vehicles of yesteryear. The Red, White and Blue along with the historic eagle logo harken back to a simpler time and remind us how vital the United States Postal Service® is. Each rollerball has an acid-etched barrel with printed graphics and complete with stealth black trim.

LOVE STAMP • The popular Love stamp series began in 1973 and the tradition continues with the 2021 Love stamp which “features a colorful and light-hearted digital illustration” by illustrator Bailey Sullivan. The art is silkscreened on the stainless steel barrel with gloss varnish and polished chrome accents. The top disc features another heart looking up at you when it’s stored upright in your pocket or purse.

DRAGONS • The Dragons Big Shot showcases four dragon designs illustrated by artist Don Clark of Invisible Creature. The Forever® stamp art has now been turned into a rollerball pen featuring “the high-flying, fire-breathing mythological creatures that have roamed our imaginations for millennia.” Each of the colorful Dragon stamps, plus the stamp selva graphic has been silkscreened around the metal barrel of this larger diameter Tornado.

THANK YOU • The 2020 Thank You stamps were designed by the talented Dana Tanamachi. The script and floral aesthetic were originally drawn by hand before creating it digitally. Each Tornado Rollerball is printed with these stamps and graphics in all four colors: Muted Green, Soft Maroon, Purple, and Blue Gray. The brass barrel shows through the print to replicate the stamp's gold foil and is finished with polished brass trim and a flower on the finial.

The ROCKETEER 40TH ANNIVERSARY

© THE ROCKETEER TRUST

OFFICIALLY LICENSED FINE WRITING INSTRUMENTS

First Flight RRR-2280

First Flight - Artist Edition RRR-2281

The Rocketeer RRR-2282

Retro 51 partnered with Okto & The Rocketeer Trust to bring these officially licensed fine writing instruments, all paying tribute to Dave Steven's iconic comic book character and exquisite art.

FIRST FLIGHT • Relive Cliff Secord's first flight as The Rocketeer with this classic twist-top rollerball pen.

Panels from the comic wrap the barrel, protected with a gloss finish and accented with a stonewashed brass trim. The famous "Target" image from the Pacific Presents #1 back cover adorns the top disc. Each pen is numbered on the top ring and packaged in a graphic collectible tube that doubles as a pen stand.

FIRST FLIGHT - ARTIST'S EDITION • This black & white version of the "First Flight" rollerball pen captures Dave's original art as seen in the "Artist's Edition" of the comic. With glossy black accents and a special top disc featuring Dave's initials, this variant is perfect for the serious comic book fan and collector.

THE MET

Louis Comfort Tiffany's Favrile | MRR-2122

Louis Comfort Tiffany's Favrile Tornado rollerball pen recalls an iridescent Favrile glass vase (ca. 1900) with a peacock feather motif, produced by the Tiffany Glass and Decorating Company (American, 1892–1902). It's been printed with shimmering metallic inks finished with chrome accents.

William Morris's Blackthorn | MRR-2124

The "Blackthorn" pattern was designed by textile artist William Morris during the Arts and Crafts Movement of the 19th century. Several colors have been printed around the Tornado's stainless-steel barrel that's finished with a gloss varnish and polished brass accents.

Both rollerball pens are packaged in a commemorative tube with more information about each design included. Each Tornado has The Met logo imprinted on the finial and is finished with polished trim. Although they are not limited editions, the top rings are engraved with The Met logo and a serial number. These beautiful designs are a must have for any art lover.

Nikola Tesla

Nikola Tesla • VRR-2251

Futurist, inventor, electrical and mechanical engineer, Nikola Tesla was a genius well ahead of his time. His inventions are still being used to this day and his theories were so advanced that they continue to be studied, experimented on and even power the modern world. This Tornado's design was inspired by Tesla's spiral coil used in his wireless power experiments. Concentric circles are acid-etched into the barrel then plated in copper and finished with platinum appointments giving it a radiant and magnetic aesthetic. Each rollerball is loaded into a commemorative packaging tube that doubles as a pen stand when not in use. Pick up this new Tornado and rub shoulders with genius.

Harriet Tubman • VRR-2250

Harriet Tubman is one of America's most iconic figures, inspiring generations. In the face of unrelenting danger, Harriet Tubman courageously risked her own life, traveling countless miles on the Underground Railroad to help other slaves find freedom and "never lost a passenger." This Tornado rollerball pays homage to Harriet Tubman. The design reproduces the pattern from a headscarf in one of her most well-known photos. The stainless barrel has a lightly textured base coat with pattern printed on top and is finished with antique silver trim and her portrait on the finial. Each pen is packaged in a commemorative tube. May all who write with this pen be moved by Tubman's daring, courage and generosity. See specs on front.
