OUR FOUNDER

SEAGRAPE IS ON A MISSION TO TURN SELF-CARE INTO A LOVE AFFAIR!

My name is Maria Vashakidze and I am the founder of Seagrape Apothecary, a magical shop and community space with a flagship store in Portland, OR.

Just a short while ago I couldn't even remember what stirred desire in my belly so I set out to find the juicy parts of life I was missing. The disconnect from my own pleasure caused a ripple effect throughout my life that affected my art practice, relationships, creative spark, and genuine rest. Seagrape pulled me from this stagnant place and infused my life and practice with simple pleasures, luscious experiences, and most importantly the space I needed to grow.

Bringing attention and intention back to pleasure has opened space for me to feel expansive, joyful, and creative again. My goal in creating Seagrape is to foster a similar experience for the community; create a space that stokes one's inner fire, helps you find and stand in your personal power and magic.

Stop what you're doing, and ask-
"How can I make this moment more pleasurable?"

Maria Vashakidze (they/she), a Portland resident raised in NYC, is a queer white, Russian Jewish / Georgian immigrant working on connecting to her ancestry while tending the unceded territory of the Chinook, and Multnomah peoples temporarily. They are an artist, creative, and owner of Seagrape Apothecary, a brand with a mission to Turn Self-care into a Love Affair!
