NOTHING NEW

VENUE INFO & ACCESSIBILITY

Nothing New is showing at Smith and Gertrude Gallery-located at 73 Smith St, Fitzroy (Wurundjeri Country) Opening night is Thursday Feb 29 at 6pm-late, or you can visit the gallery between 11am-4pm Friday March 1 until Tuesday March 5.

ACCESSIBILITY:

The ground floor is at street level, though there is a small step in the middle of the room.

The second floor is accessible only by a narrow staircase.
The bathroom is not wheelchair accessible and is on the second floor. If you have sensory difficulties or dislike crowded spaces, visiting at a time other than opening night may be more pleasant for you.

If the description above does not sound suitable for you please contact Sarah at hello@snakebirddesigns.com. We can arrange a time for viewing that's modified to your requirements (bringing items from upstairs downstairs, quiet sessions etc.)

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Thank you to Rory from Smith and Gertrude for hosting Nothing New in his gallery space.

The opening night for Nothing New is generously sponsored by Bodriggy Brewing Company.

Photos of Nothing New have been taken by Tatanja Ross from On Jackson Street.

A big thanks goes to my partner Tom Ferrie for putting up with my rubbish hoarding, the Alternative Ceramics Supply crew (Georgia Stevenson, Claire Ellis and Amelia Black) for the advice and handholding, my family and anybody whose hard rubbish piles I rummaged through in the making of Nothing New x
