

Mission Impawssible

When the team at TT Towers heard there was a competition running to track down the best covert tracker dog in the UK, they knew they had to enter their four-legged friends. And with their experience, it was no surprise that all seven dogs made it to the Mission Impawssible final...but that's where it all went wrong.

Well-meaning apprentice Honor Lead thought removing the dogs' collars would make the final fairer. That way, the judges wouldn't pick the winner based on their favourite TT Towers member. But, she forgot to note down which dog belonged to who, and the information provided by the TT team on sign-up is all in code! Honor is desperate to solve this conundrum before everyone finds out and she gets into trouble. Can you help her crack this puzzle?

Use the ciphers below to decode six dog breeds.

Once you've got them, enter them all into the crossword. Make sure you enter them correctly so you can see which dog belongs to which member of the TT Towers team.
