

The Cooper Kit. Opening this package makes Dad instantly cool (with kids ages 5-9). Each kit comes with multiple themed products and activities as well as an activity book that guides him through the theme and the contents of the box, a bedtime story, links to resources “just for Dad,” and a themed dinner menu with recipes. Even the shipping box turns into a toy. $65 + shipping every 3 months. cooperandkid.com.

Raddish Kids. Each month, a themed box arrives with three illustrated recipe guides, a skill card, 2 creative activities, a shopping list, a table talk card deck and an iron-on ‘raddish’ patch to put on that cool apron that arrived with the very first box. Makes cooking a whole lot more fun. Subscriptions start at $72 for 3 months. raddishkids.com.

NatureBox. A bunch of healthy snacks—no artificial flavors, colors, or sweeteners—are delivered each month. Choose your recipient’s dietary or taste preference if you like, such as flax-infused crackers to dried fruit, and vegan to gluten-conscious. An added feel-good, the company donates one meal to Feeding America for every box it delivers. Subscriptions start at $59.99 for 3 months. naturebox.com.
