

The Science of Color

Why was a black piece of paper used as a liner in your solar oven?

.....

The sun produces heat energy. Heat energy can be absorbed or reflected by an object.

The color of an object determines how much energy is absorbed. Dark surfaces such as black paper absorb more light and heat than lighter ones such as white paper.