

NOTES

About Charles J. Rufino

Master Violin Maker Charles J. Rufino studied violin making and restoration for ten years in some of the finest studios of Europe and the United States. Since 1983 from his own studios in Huntington, Long Island and New York he has made instruments considered by experts to be the equal of old Masters. Today, Rufino instruments are used by discerning musicians and heard live and in recordings of concerts and television, movie and Broadway soundtracks.

He established The Long Island Violin Shop to share his expertise with string teachers and their students. The LIVS specializes in excellent affordable instruments and expert services for serious young string players. Mr. Rufino is a member of The American Federation of Violin and Bow Makers, L'Entente Internationale des Maitres Luthiers et Archetiers d'Art, and the String Industry Council of the American String Teachers Association (ASTA) He is a well known spokesman for his art, and presents an illustrated PowerPoint lecture The Art and Lore of the Violin numerous times each year to student and professional groups.

Achieve Your Potential

The Long Island Violin Shop offers lessons on Violin, Viola, Cello, and Bass.

Musicians of all ages and levels of accomplishment are welcome.

Whether you are playing for personal enjoyment, preparation of NYSSMA, or college auditions, our professional instructors at the LIVS are here to help you achieve your musical goals.

Quality Instruction

Our collegiately-trained instructors specialize in the latest educational methods and materials.

Our instructors only teach the primary instruments that they themselves play.

As such, they have gone through similar learning experiences as their students and know how to succeed in school orchestras, NYSSMA, and college auditions.

Our goal is for our students to excel and enjoy their instrument.

To meet our teachers please visit our site. Under the "About Us" section
