

CLEARVIEW™ AUDIO RAISES $1 M TO FUND EXPANSION

Poised to Participate in Rapidly Growing Multi-Room Audio Market

WELLESLEY, MA, June 15 – ClearView™ Audio (Emo Labs Inc.)

<http://www.clearviewaudio.com>, the creators of the award winning nearly “invisible” Bluetooth® speaker Clio, announce today that the company raised $1 million in new equity funding. The new funds will be used to expand retail distribution of Clio™ and to support the continued development of breakthrough wireless invisible speakers based on its patented Edge Motion® technology.

Clio by ClearView employs an ultra-thin and transparent speaker to produce high quality, room-filling sound. It is the world’s first invisible speaker designed to fit any room, any style. Clio, which sells at retail for $349, is available at Restoration Hardware, Amazon Third Party Marketplace, select independent audio / video specialty stores throughout the U.S. and online at <http://www.clearviewaudio.com>.

“We are well positioned to participate in the rapidly growing $1.5 B multi-room audio space,” said Stefan Bokamper, CEO of ClearView Audio. “Our Edge Motion technology provides a fresh approach to wireless speakers, ideally meeting the lifestyle needs of today’s design-conscious consumers.”

Future products will continue to leverage the company’s disruptive Edge Motion technology, with the goal of producing a wide range of ultra-thin, transparent speakers both for standalone and multi-room applications.
