

Clio Invisible Speaker by ClearView Now Available at Bloomingdale's

Wellesley, Mass. — September 14, 2015 — ClearView™ Audio, the creators of the award-winning “invisible” Bluetooth speaker Clio™, today announced that the product is now available for purchase at all Bloomingdale's Home Stores across the U.S. and online through Bloomingdales.com.

The ultra-thin, transparent Clio speaker fits into the style of any room. The harmonious blending of patented Edge Motion® technology and visual aesthetics makes this speaker one-of-a-kind with premium sound quality. The product is available in three décor-friendly colors: silver, charcoal and dark bronze.

Today's announcement follows several key milestones for ClearView Audio this year. The company was recently recognized with a prestigious 2015 Red Dot Design Award and a coveted 2015 Gold Edison Award. Earlier this year, music and technology visionary Troy Carter joined the company's advisory board.
