

MOOSE ANTLER

Ingredients: 100% naturally shed moose antler.

Description: Antlers are sorted by weight, rather than length.

Small antlers 100g or less Medium deer antlers 101-200g Large deer antlers 201-300g Huge deer antlers 301-425g

Recommended for: Agressive chewers. Pick the right sized antler depending on the chewing strength of the dog (i.e. a large German shepherd should not be given a small antler, they should be given a large antler).

Chew Time: This antler is likely to withstand weeks to months before it needs to be replaced.

Pro Tips: Good for customers looking for a long lasting chew. Moose antlers will either be sourced from the paddle (flat pieces) or from the base of the antler (long and narrow pieces). The paddles are the softest out of the other antler options (including deer and elk), however, the base of moose antlers are the toughest antler option (even when compared to deer or elk antlers), due to the weight the base must support. A good chew alternative for dogs suffering from common allergies such as beef or chicken.

Country of Origin: USA

Ways to Purchase: Sold by the piece in small, medium, large, and huge sizes.
