Hello, and thank you for your interest in one of our bullie babies as your new family companion. Our puppies are all AKC registered. A $500.00 deposit down will hold a puppy for you in the order that the deposits are received. Deposits may be made through Cash App, Venmo, Zelle, Bank Wire Transfer, Western Union, Cashier's Check or Money Order, whichever payment method is easiest for you.

When making a deposit, please make sure and specify in the notes section if you are wanting a male or female, and what color you are looking for. This DOES NOT mean that we will force you to stick with that selection, we only use this information for our records. You may change your mind at any time if "the right" puppy comes along. We are very good communicators, and whenever we get your deposit we will notify you immediately. The final payment for your puppy will be due the day that you pick up your puppy. If your puppy is to be shipped, payment is due one week prior to shipping.

When pups become available, we start showing pictures to the people with deposits in the order that the deposits were received. When it comes to your turn – if you do not like any of the available pups, you may pass for another upcoming litter. Your deposit is transferable but non-refundable. We do have new litters on a regular basis.

We send pictures regularly of your baby as it is growing and developing. We know how exciting this time is for you! Thank you for trusting I Am Bulldog with your next family companion. We promise that we will be committed to you and your bullie for the entire life of your puppy. If you have questions or concerns about training, nutrition, health or anything else please contact us. We are here for you. We also have many references available at your request, including our vet.

Here is our price list for your consideration:
