USING SILICONE CHOCOLATE MOLDS

Silicone molds for chocolate must have a perfectly smooth interior. Any bubbles, pits or imperfections will transfer to the surface of the chocolate. Abraded or scratched molds give the finished chocolate a dull appearance. Avoid washing the molds with abrasive cleaners or scrubbing pads to keep the molds in good shape while avoiding dull finished chocolates. Molds made from food grade silicone with a tin or platinum cure are best used for chocolate, with the platinum cured varieties featuring the smoothest interior for the glossiest finish on the molded chocolates.
